Golden Key Staff

Memories are golden . . . In a short time this book will serve as some adult's key to reminiscence. This year's Golden Key staff worked long hours to bring you a book of lasting quality . . . a book to enjoy now and cherish in the years to come.

Editor-in-Chief, Julie Buxton

Foreword

Traveling through this world are we, anticipating our future. The past is but a memory . . . a path we shall not trod again. Time is a priceless value. Each day we must give our fullest, each day we must strive to contribute something for the good of mankind . . .
We Pass This Way But Once.

"Oh, earth, you're too wonderful for anybody to realize you. Do any human beings ever realize life while they live it? — every, every minute?"

— Thornton Wilder, Emily, in Our Town,

Life is the soul's nursery — its training place for the destinies of eternity.

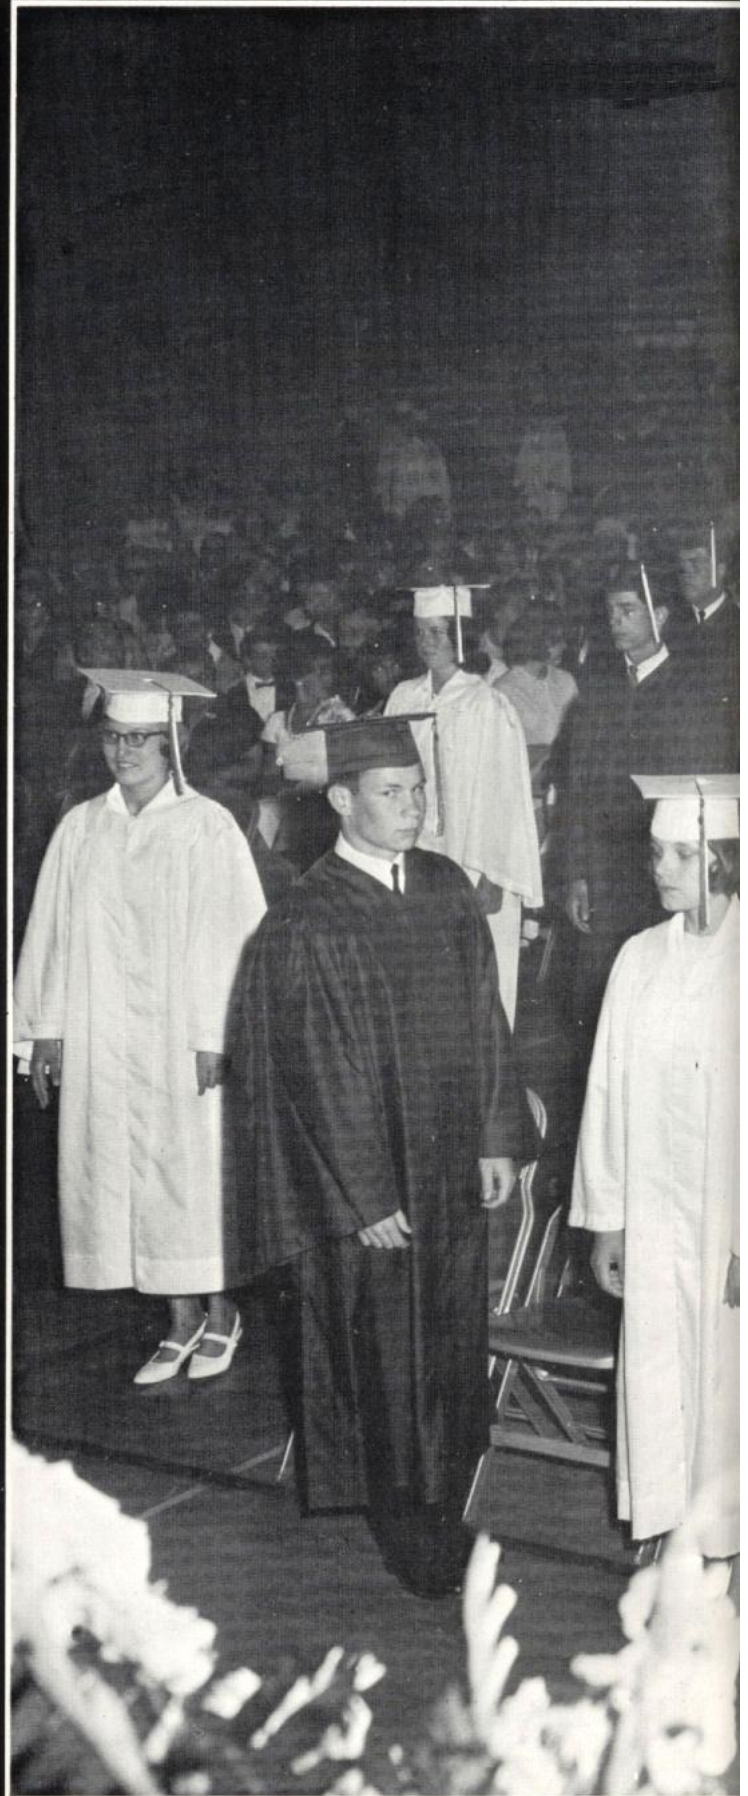

— Thackeray

Look to this day,
For it is life, the very life of life,
In its brief course lie all the verities and realities of your existence:

The glory of action,
The bliss of growth,
For yesterday is but a dream and tomorrow is only a vision;
But today well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness, and every tomorrow a vision of hope.

Look well, therefore, to this day.

The Pause That Refreshes . . .

Lunchtime is a refreshing time at S.H.S. Fourth period classes are dismissed at various times to avoid an overcrowded lunchroom. After eating, students either go to the gymnasium, to a study room, or to a conversation room. In the gym, activities include dancing, basketball and a noon movie.

Faculty

Our Principal—Kenneth V. Hiestand

After thirty-five years of educational service in Ohio's public schools, Mr. Hiestand can look back upon his experiences with pride and satisfaction. Our principal received a Bachelor of Science and a Master of Arts degree from Kent State University and did post graduate work at Westminster College.

This year, one of Mr. Hiestand's main goals was realized: the admittance of Streetsboro High School into the North Central Association. The school received its accreditation on March 30, 1966. Thanks is due to the man who leads our school — Mr. Kenneth V. Hiestand.

Mrs. Janet Dunlap

Besides being Mr. Hiestand's secretary, one of Mrs. Dunlap's main duties has been keeping the accounts for the organizations at S.H.S. Her friendly personality makes her popular with students and faculty, for she is always willing to help them in any way she can. Truly she is "one in a million."

Mrs. Jean Lillick

Mrs. Lillick's first year as a teacher's aide at Streetsboro kept her busy at many odd jobs. One of her tasks is running off dittos and typing tests for teachers. She's truly a teacher's best friend. Besides her job as a teacher's aide, she does the purchasing for the school.

Mrs. Belvera Shaffer

Mrs. Shaffer's job consists of keeping records of all money received and spent, and making the payroll for all certificated and non-certificated employees. As Mr. Volio's secretary, her job includes handling his calls, mail, and taking minutes of all meetings.

The Excel

Local Superintendent Jay Volio

Although this was Mr. Volio's first year as superintendent of Streetsboro schools, it was by no means his first year of serving Streetsboro's school system. Many of us here at the high school remember him as principal of Wise Elementary School.

This year, Mr. Volio helped initiate three vocational courses for our high school's curriculum. This new vocational program will begin next year. Also, he saw the future brighten for Streetsboro schools when a bond issue passed providing $1,587,000 for a building program.

Mr. Volio attended Kent State University, where he earned his Bachelor of Arts and Master of Education degrees.

To provide the seniors with the best prom ever was the goal of the junior class this year. They certainly went all-out to achieve their goal.

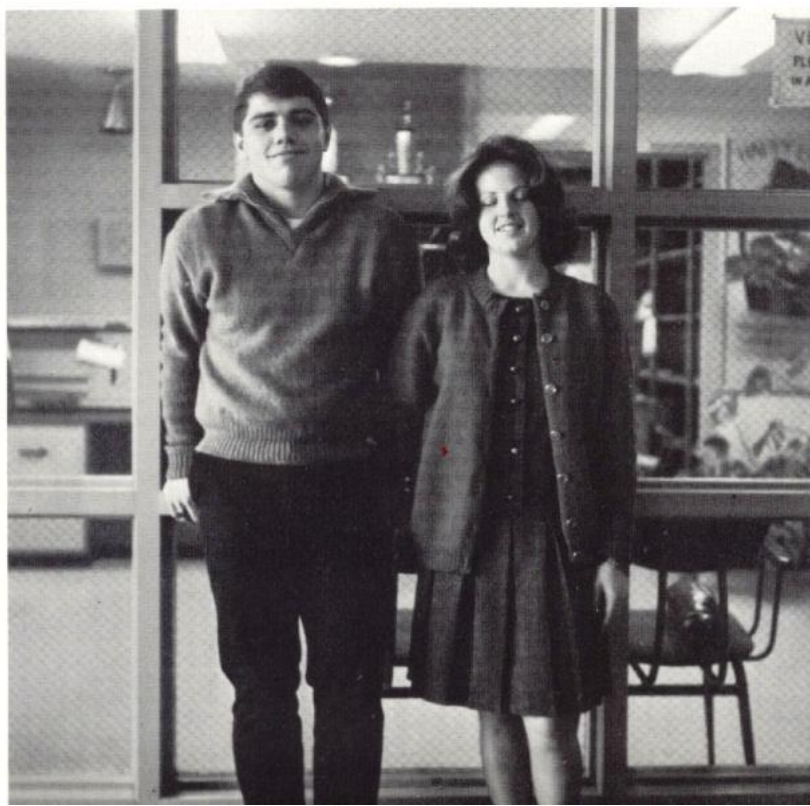

Manning the concession stand, sponsoring dances, and holding a penny ballot for the Sweetheart King and Queen, the class raised enough money to host the seniors at the Yankee Clipper Inn on prom night. The two plays they put on were a source of entertainment for young and old.

Their hard work and many efforts were rewarded on May 13th, when everyone was delighted by the prom's theme, "The glory that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome."

The juniors now look back at the time they were "plum tuckered out" and declare that it was worth it all.

This year's sophomore class found out what the phrase "the juniors get everything" means. Although they tried hard all year to earn money, all they succeeded in having was one dance — the annual St. Pat's dance.

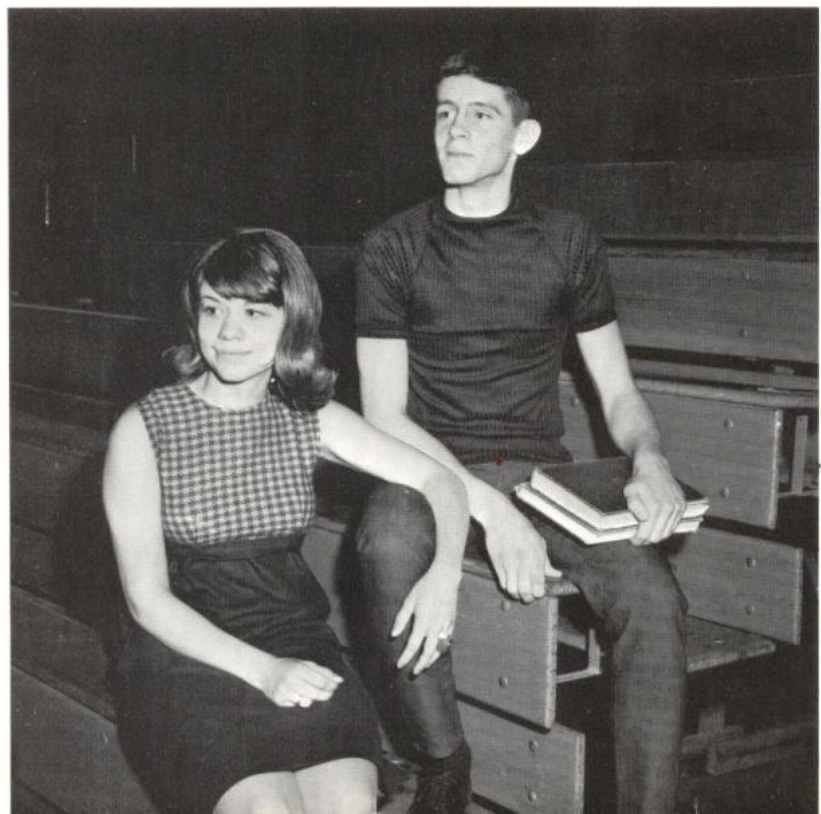

Those of us who have been through our junior year are wondering how pleased they're going to be next year, when they find it necessary to sponsor all those nerve-wracking functions which supposedly "bring in the loot."

We'd like to offer our heartfelt sympathies and add, "Good luck next year!"

After a successful eighth grade year, these students came back to S.H.S. determined to make their freshman year even better.

This year (although they're still being treated as underclassmen) has been bearable. The reason life as freshmen has been better is because they were, for the first time, really a part of the high school's activities.

The boys participated in the freshman football and basketball teams and a few even joined the wrestling squad. The girls joined activities such as cheerleading, Boosters, and F.H.A.

The freshmen are no longer complaining about being treated as "strangers." A word to the wise: "All it takes is time."

After taking a poll of the eighth grade, we found that they find this school to be quite perturbing.

They feel that there should be at least five minutes between classes. We wonder if they have ever stopped to realize that that would add another fourteen minutes to the school day, seventy to the week, two hundred and eighty to the month, and 2,520 to the year! We would end up going to school six extra days in the summer and . . . Oh dear, would any of us be able to take all that?

"Some seniors treat us like mud. They think they're better than us!" But, eighth graders, you seem to be forgetting that the seniors have been up here for a lot longer time than you have — and 'kinda' have the right to feel like upperclassmen. We'd like to say that when you are seniors in '70 — treat the eighth graders the way you'd have liked to have been treated and make it a little easier on them.

Although the eighth graders seem to be down-in-the-dumps, we're sure they'd all agree that this year really hasn't been so bad, and maybe it was even fun.

A Special Class

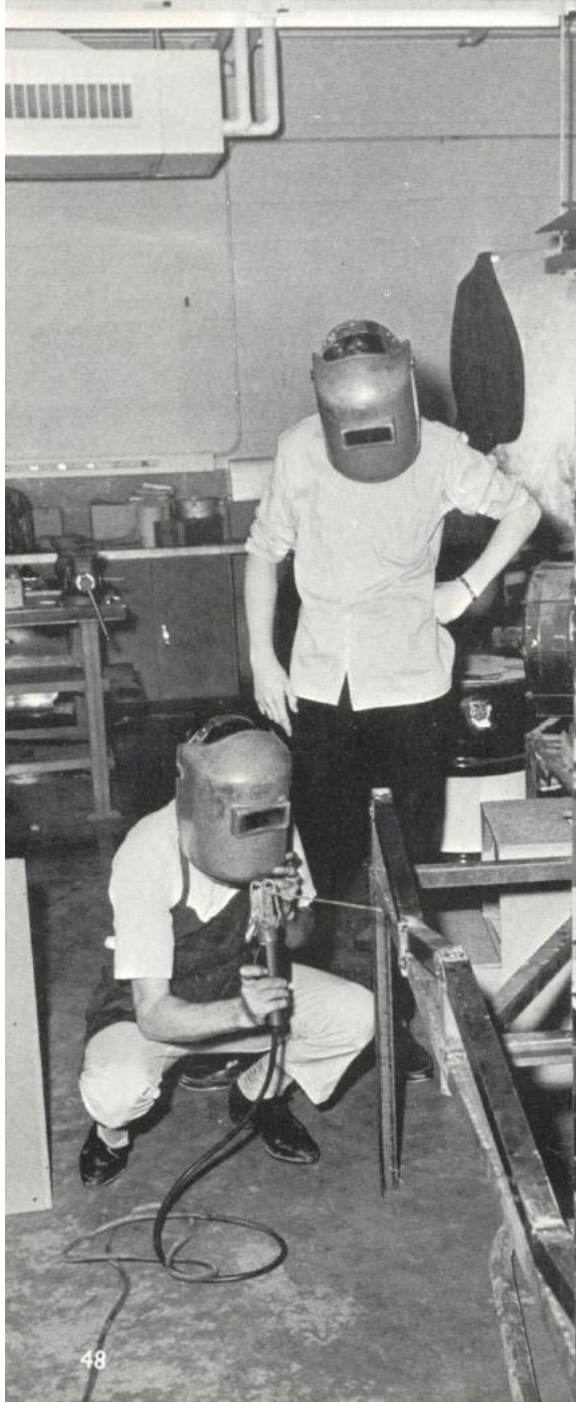

The boys who initiated a home economics class this year disproved the popular belief that a kitchen's a woman's world. Under the guidance of Miss Dria, their home economics teacher, they learned how to make such things as pizza, sweet rolls, fudge, and cakes — the things boys like so very much. Besides cooking, the boys were given laundry lessons and were instructed on such things as dating etiquette. The knowledge they gained will be useful to them whether they go away to college, get married, or even remain bachelors.

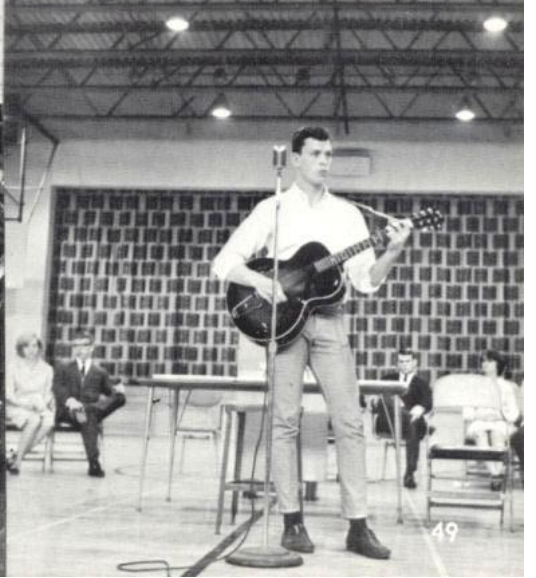

The best part of cooking is eating! Home ec. boys (right) sample their own goodies.

The true home of the free and the brave is the home ec. lab. Everything is free, but you have to be brave!

Homecoming Court

A bonfire pep rally signaled the beginning of Homecoming festivities. In a hard fought game, the Rockets lost to Windham 28-14. During half-time activities, Miss Teresa McCabe was crowned Homecoming Queen by Mrs. Gloria La Roche, last year's queen. Queen Teresa was presented the traditional autographed football by Mr. Robert Riddick, Benchbacker president. The Queen and her court reigned at the Homecoming dance following the game.

The Junior Class Presents . . .

“An Apple for the Teacher” and “Why Teachers Go Nuts”

In “An Apple for Teacher,” Alicia Peabody, the richest girl in school, lords it over her classmates. One day, she makes the fatal mistake of tattling on Swat Simmonds, the toughest boy in school. Swat vows to have revenge on Alicia for squealing on him and the way he proceeds to get even with her is riotous. Esther Baker, the harassed young teacher, and Mr. Hiestand, handsome young principal of the school, announce their intention of getting married immediately and the School Board appoints a new teacher, Miss Mesich, who comes well prepared for her new assignment.

Are teachers driven nuts or are teachers nuts to begin with? Harassed by a roomful of pupils who know all the answers, — but not to the questions asked — this particular teacher seems to prove the case for heredity. Moving, unperturbed, in a veritable bedlam of a classroom, and accepting the most insane answers as not only logical but academically correct, Miss Abigail Abbysinia fails to do so much as notice the frantic efforts of her pupils to reduce the classroom to shambles. As the curtain goes down the audience gains an insight to “Why Teachers Go Nuts.”

Junior-Senior Prom

The co-chairman of this year's prom were Roxie Emery and Bill Reid. They used the theme "the glory that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome" to decorate the Yankee Clipper Inn where the prom was held. Prom-goers enjoyed a banquet before dancing. Later prom night, they went to the Eastgate Coliseum in Cleveland where bowling, miniature golf, swimming, and pool were available. Upon returning to Streetsboro High the next morning, they ate a breakfast prepared and served by mothers of junior class members. Certainly May 13, 1966 was a night any Greek would envy.

At the banquet are Debi Stewart, Marty Myers, junior class president, Mollie Brown and John Lear, senior class president.

Students were well chaperoned at the prom by the Reverend Fr. John Hoey, the Reverend Robert Muffly and his wife, and the wife of the Reverend Fred Michelson.

Enjoying a dream night are Sam Bayles, Sharon Cole, Mitch Maddox, Loren Erdman, Ed Kappes, and Bob Flynn.

Shown taking a breather while watching other dancers are (in front) Mr. and Mrs. Al Amon and Mr. and Mrs. David Guerine. Seated behind the two couples are Mrs. Ronald Hnath, Mrs. James Naughton, and Mrs. Harold Toms and her husband.

Our Country Needs . . . Citizens With Character, Leadership, Service, and Scholarship

The end and aim of all education is the development of character.

— Francis W. Parker

It is not what the world gives me
In honor, praise or gold;
It is what I do give the world,
So others do unfold.

— Richard F. Wolfe

It is not what he has, nor even what he does, which directly expresses the worth of a man, but what he is.

— Henri Frederic Amiel

Freedom rests, and always will, on individual responsibility, individual integrity, individual effort, individual courage, and individual religious faith.

— from Apples of Gold

Service to a just cause rewards the worker with more real happiness and satisfaction than any other venture of life.

— Carrie Chapman Catt

Character is the real foundation of all worthwhile success.

— John Hays Hammond

Beta Encourages Youth in Achieve

The purpose of the Beta Club is to promote the ideals of honesty, service, and leadership among high school students, to reward meritorious achievement, and to encourage and assist students to continue their education after high school. The Beta Club is a leadership-service organization whose motto is "Let us lead by serving others."

To be eligible for membership in the Beta Club, a student must have a worthy character, good mentality, creditable achievement, and a commendable attitude.

This year, Vickie Scheffel ran as a candidate for vice-president at the state convention. During Christmas vacation, the club sponsored a breakfast, together with the guidance department, for students interested in college. Other projects included sponsoring the Homecoming Dance, selling mums, touring a college, and awarding a scholarship to a promising senior.

Honored guests at a breakfast held for students interested in college were the alumni of Streetsboro High who are attending college. President, Julie Buxton, and corresponding secretary, Pat Krzanowski (left) are shown after questioning Gerald Semprock on various aspects of college life.

Participating in the discussion (below) were James Nussbaum, Ohio State University; Mary Lou Murphy, Akron City Hospital; Woody Jones, Akron University; and Gerald Semproch, Western Reserve University. Other Streetsboro graduates on the panel were Susan Dunlap, Melvin Heritage, Sandra Hughes, and Ray Steffner.

The purpose of the Future Homemakers of America is to bring together all girls who are interested in homemaking. Any student who has had one semester of home economics may join F.H.A.

This year the officers of Streetsboro's F.H.A. chapter correlated the club's activities with the theme "Choosing Your Career to Improve Family Living." Various speakers spoke at the club's monthly meetings. Besides serving for science fairs and the Homecoming dinner, the club collected canned goods for the needy at Christmas. Other activities included visiting an old folk's home and the Larlham Foundation, selling cookbooks, and entertaining the Southeast F.H.A. chapter. After a year of planning and activity, the club was proud to receive the Award of Merit.

Boosters Create Unity, Spirit, Enthusiasm

The purpose of the Booster Club is to promote school spirit in athletics and school functions. Any boy or girl in grades nine through twelve may join the club.

Among the club's activities this year were bake sales, making posters for school functions, decorating the goal posts and locker rooms for home games, and sponsoring the club's annual dance, the Booster Private.

Officers: Cece Nelson, vice-president; Vickie Sheffel, treasurer; Barbara Rancourt, secretary; Louise Sellers, President.

The yearbook staff would like to thank Barr Studios, Mrs. Diane Bernish, Mrs. Vera Baran, and Mr. Jerry Elmore, Taylor representative, for their co-operation and support. Thanks goes also to the many friends who contributed to make this book financially possible.

Somebody said it couldn't be done, but he with a chuckle replied that "maybe it couldn't" but he would be the one who wouldn't say so till he tried.

Français

The purpose of the French Club is to further interest in France and the French speaking people. Any French student is welcome to join. Activities this year included a taffy pull, a record hop, and a French dinner. To wind up the year, the French Club had a picnic along with the Spanish and Science Clubs.

Español

The Spanish Club, open to any student who has studied Spanish during his high school years, tries to learn more about the Spanish speaking people in the world. This year, the club took a trip to see José Greco and his Flamenco dancers. Other activities included a Spanish dinner and a picnic at Nelson Ledges.

The Bowling Club is an organization which increases recreational activity for students and provides an opportunity for them to meet socially.

Members of the club bowled every Wednesday after school at Streetsboro Lanes. At the end of the year, they also held a banquet at which several trophies were awarded.

Chess Club

This year two new clubs were added to the list of extracurricular activities at S.H.S. — the Chess Club and the Golf Club. Members of the Chess Club met once a week for the enjoyment of a good game of chess. Anyone interested in playing chess was welcome to join the club.

Seated: F. Ritenour. Standing: S. Szumski, B. Sopcak, J. Wargo, J. Creak, J. Tawney, D. Ankrom, P. Cosgrove, E. Szumski, M. Belviso.

'65-66 Marching Band . . . Clever Half-time Shows

Marching at all the football games, in every type of weather, the sixty members of the marching band played peppy songs that put a new spark in the school spirit. Their unique performances, such as "Junior Joins the Band" and the "Late, Late Show" will long be remembered as a cherished part of football highlights.

Officers: Dave Stell, publicity; John Wargo, president; Mike Kaczynski, vice-president; Roxie Emery, secretary-treasurer.

Drum Major and Majorettes

Dave Rice

Lexie Charvat, Ruth Flynn, Sandy Miller, Linda Barnhart, Ricki Jo Poole, Loren Erdman, Roxie Emery.

For the first time at Streetsboro High, the marching band was led by a drum major, Dave Rice. Despite the fact he had had no formal training before this year, Dave thrilled the crowds with his amazing strutting and twirling abilities.

Sandy Miller

The majorettes combined initiative, talent, and originality to present football fans with a new routine each week. They were seniors Ruth Flynn and Sandy Miller, Juniors Roxie Emery, Lexie Charvat, and Loren Erdman, and Sophomores Linda Barnhart and Ricki Jo Poole.

Tempo Quickens as Graduation Nears

The Senior Class of 1966 is the first class to have completed four years at Streetsboro High School:

As Freshmen, they were proud to be a part of the new high school. Their Sophomore year was one of expectation. The class sponsored the St. Patrick's Day Dance, ordered their class rings, and moved into the swing of things. As juniors, they presented a three-act comedy, "Out of the Frying Pan," directed by Miss Barto. The class sponsored dances and manned the concession stand at games to earn money for the Junior-Senior Prom. "Island Paradise" was an unforgettable evening, culminating a year's hard work and earning the class the Prom of the Year Award.

As seniors, led by John Lear, president; Julie Buxton, Sharon Kelly, secretary, and Dennis Scinkovec, treasurer, they sponsored the Snoball Dance and the Senior Guest Dance. The class presented two one-act plays, "Aria Da Capo" and "The Lottery," again directed by Miss Barto. In May, the juniors provided a delightful evening for them at the Yankee Clipper Inn. One of their final activities was a day of frolic at Cedar Point.

The seniors graduated on June 2, 1966, with one chapter in their lives completed.

"Aria Da Capo," written by Edna St. Vincent Millay, is a morality play, but it is not preachy. It is Miss Millay's protest against selfishness and pettiness. The seniors presented it in a very dramatic manner.

"The Lottery," written by Shirley Jackson, had an absolutely overwhelming effect on the audience. In the play, the town's people drew "lots". Tessie Hutchison, who came up with the lot marked with the black dot, was stoned.

So Sad, So Fresh, the Days

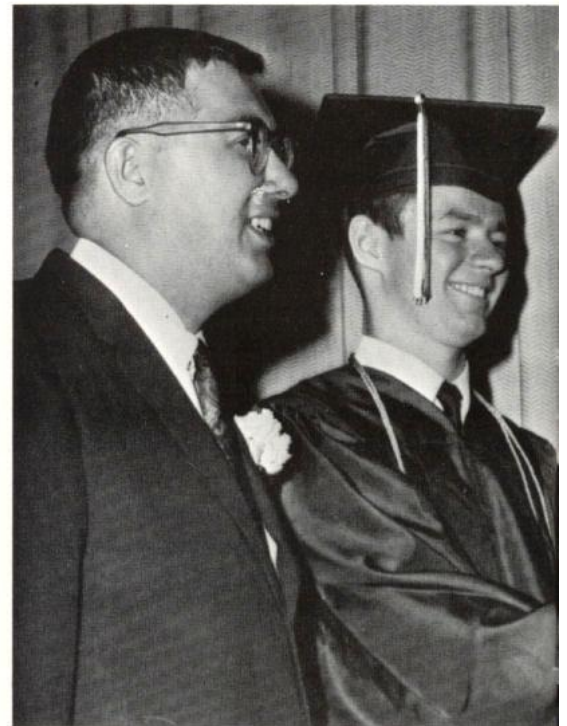

Baccalaureate service evening, May 29, 1966, the Reverend Robert Muffly addressed the class on "Whittling or Carving." At the close of the service, Scott Kouba sang a beautiful vocal solo entitled, "I Believe." Shown are senior class president, John Lear, who introduced the speaker; the Reverend Robert Muffly, guest speaker; the Reverend William Bowman, who gave the scripture and prayer; and the Reverend Fred Michelson, who gave the invocation and benediction.

Commencement evening, a beautiful one, beckoned the largest graduating class in Streetsboro's history to the halls of Streetsboro High School for the last time.

Valedictorian, Julie Buxton, delivered an oration entitled, "From Here to Eternity." "Assets to Meet the Challenge," was the title of the oration given by salutatorian, Pat Arnett. Other graduates honored for their academic achievements are, in order of their class ranking, Louise Sellers, Dave Rice, Pat Krzanowski, Nash Robenstine, Barbara Price, Scott Kouba, Mary Ann Joyce, and Linda Dempsey.

Addressing the class on "The Future and You," the Reverend Clemens Farver, from East Springfield, Pennsylvania, left every graduate with a stirring message.

That Are No More — Tennyson

Dave Rice, senior boy with the highest academic average, receives his diploma from Mr. Vernon Weingart.

Shown admiring a diploma following the commencement ceremony are Mr. Jay Volio, local superintendent; Dave Rice, graduate honored for twelve years perfect school attendance; the Reverend Clemens Farver, guest speaker; and Mr. Vernon Weingart, president of the board of education.

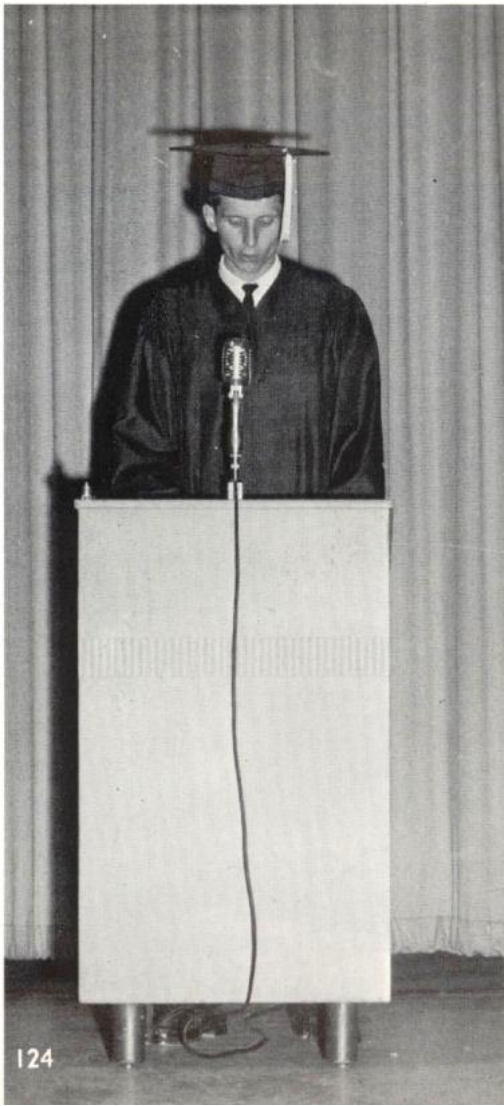

Ninety-five Receive Diplomas

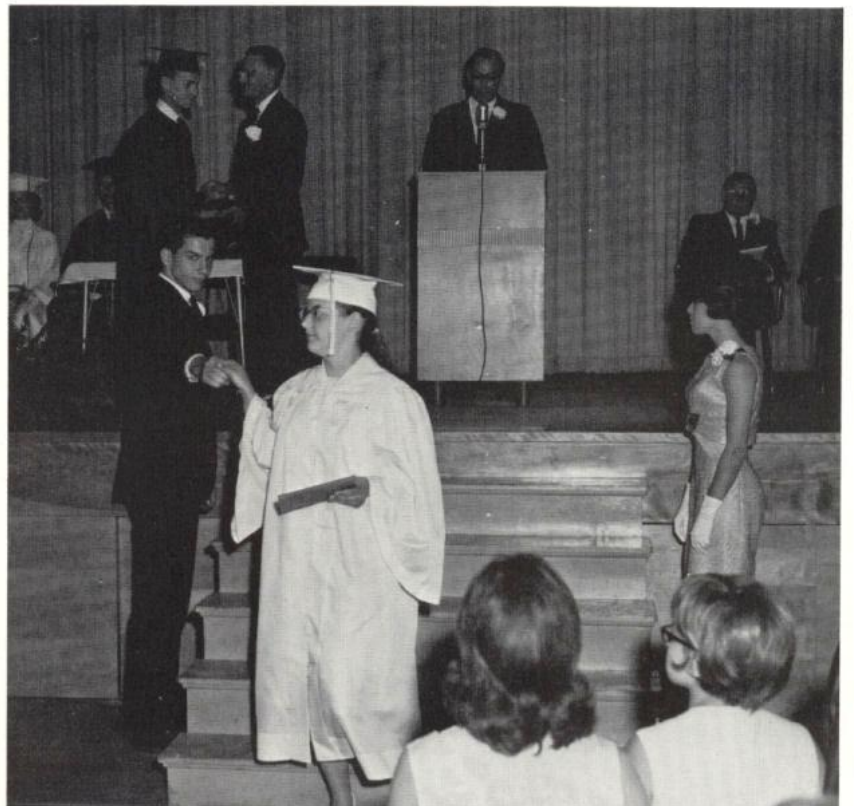

The audience looks on as Pat Arnett walks away with the Beta Club scholarship.

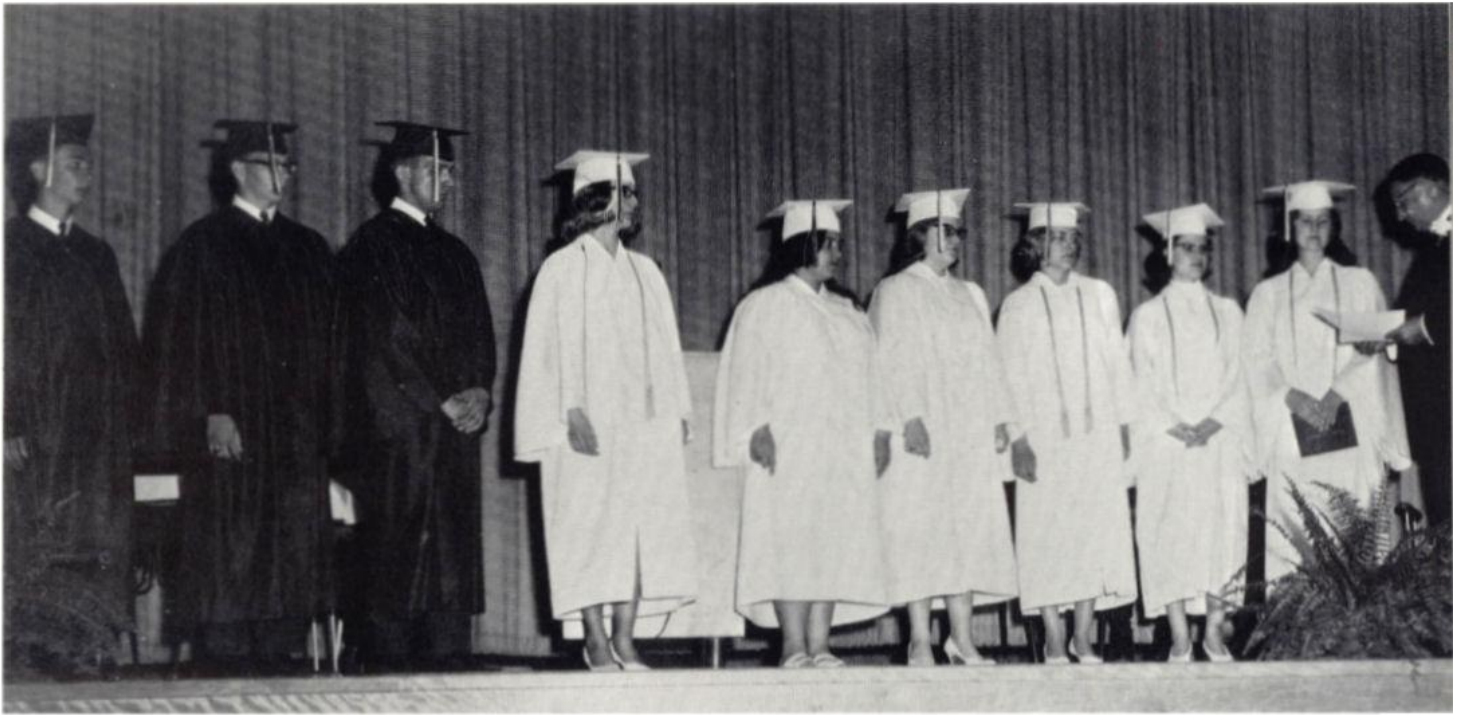

John Lear, senior class president, delivers the greetings.

During an impressive ceremony, Rick Cheshire receives his diploma as Delores Bender is assisted off the stage by Bob Mager. Chris MacKeown and Bob Mager, juniors, led in the graduating class of 1966.

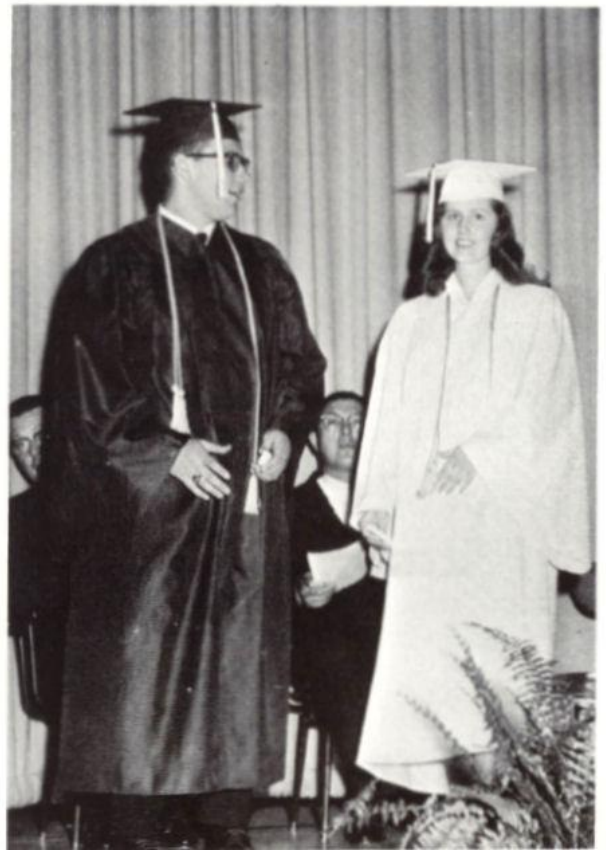

Nine receive the State Board Award of Distinction from Mr. Hiestand, principal. They are (left to right) Allen Kelly, Dave Stell, Richard Sempruch, Louise Sellers, Marquerite Reeves, Barbara Rancourt, Pat Krzanowski, Pat Arnett, and Julie Buxton. To be granted this honor, a graduate must have completed at least four units of English, three units of mathematics, three units of science, three units of social studies, and three units of a foreign language.

Recipients of the Lion's Key Award, awarded to the outstanding senior boy and girl, are Scott Kouba and Julie Buxton (below).

Those who graduate today and stop learning tomorrow are uneducated the day after.

Student Council '65-'66, Another 66-67 Presidential Campaign Addresses

BILL BRUCE

CHRIS MacKEOWN

MARTY MYERS

Bill's troopers (above) storm the hall.

Mrs. Dunlap, school secretary, (right) receives corsage from Bill Ried, Student Council representative.

Productive Year

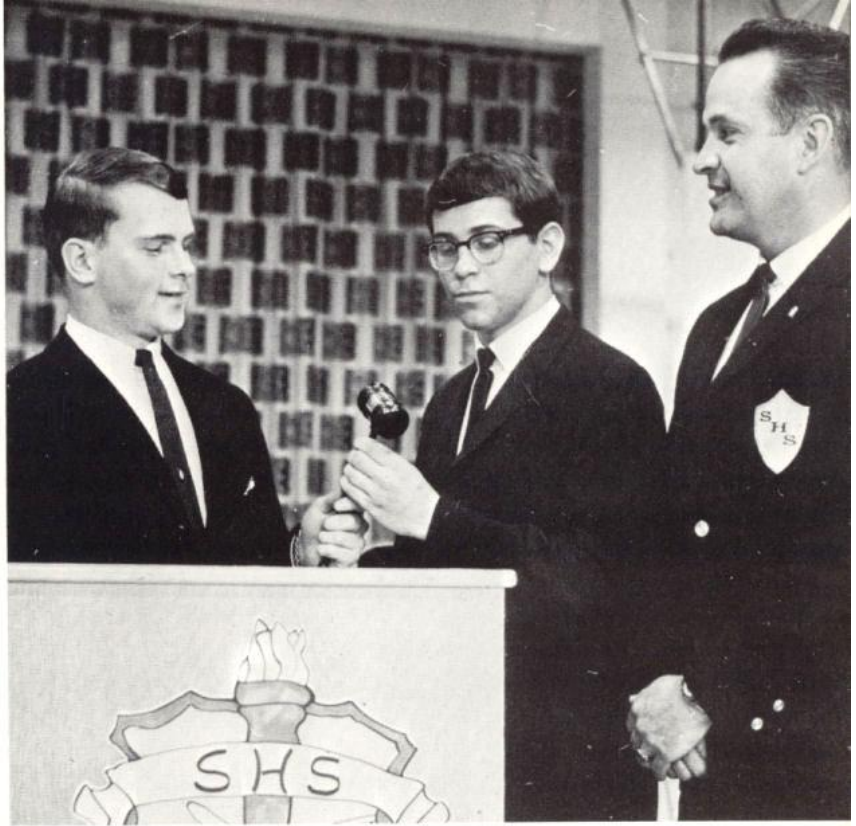

This school year, the Student Council has gone about its business in its effective behind-the-scenes manner. Completing many projects which contributed to the welfare of the school, S.C. has again upheld its ideals and purposes. The fine leadership provided by president, Bob Riddick; vice-president, Bill Bruce; secretary, Roxie Emery, and treasurer, Scott Kouba, was again up to par with the Student Council's tradition of faithful, honest leadership. The S.C.'s hard working representatives carried out their assignments to their usual conclusion. This year S.C. worked to improve its relations with the faculty by sponsoring its most successful faculty tea and by awarding the teachers corsages and boutonnieres in appreciation of the fine work they do all year round.

Two of the high points of this school year were the Student Council's presidential campaign and the S.C. Induction Ceremony. The presidential campaign was a hard-fought, sometimes hilarious battle which ended in victory for Bill Bruce.

The S.C. Induction Ceremony was certainly entertaining. The hootenanny before the ceremony revealed some very talented students of S.H.S. who put on one of the most entertaining programs the student body has ever witnessed. Following the hootenanny, next year's S.C. officers and members were inducted. Bob Riddick presented Bill Bruce with the president's gavel to climax the ceremony.

This year produced another fine page in the history of the Streetsboro High School Student Council, an organization which has already established a fine tradition of leadership and service.

Sam Bayles sings "Angela" as Bob Flynn accompanies him. Earlier in the program, Bob sang two songs he had written himself entitled "Traveling" and "Lonely Man's Ballad."

Bill Christiansen (above) singing "Time" at the Student Council hootenanny.

Singing "Tom Dooley" are Carole Mack, Sue Querry, and Vickie Scheffel (below).
