Have It Your Way

What is the first thing that comes to mind when a person thinks of Streetsboro? Could it be the Streetsboro "doing it right" Rocket Football team? Streetboro High School? The Gateway Press? City Park? The Orbiter? The Streetboro Golden Key Yearbook? The first thing that comes to most people's mind is that Streetsboro is the "fast food capital of Portage County."

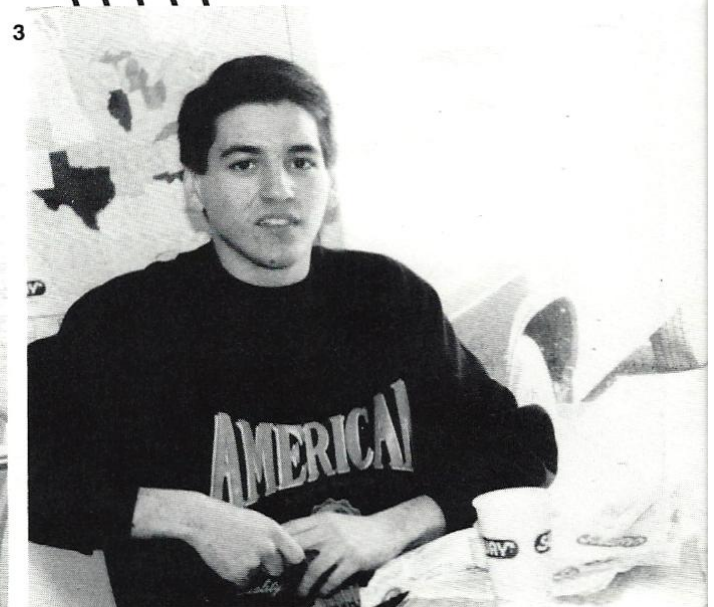

Streetsboro's fast food industry started to appear on State Route 14 spurred on by Sea World and Geauga Lake traffic. Then it started to grow into what is now known as "The Burger Mile." Down the Burger Mile, hungry fast food munchers can get anything from a taco at Taco Bell to a hamburger at McDonald's, Burger King or Wendy's. One can acquire a pizza from Guido's, Pizza Hut, Pizza Bazzar, or Domino's. A student who is craving something other than ordinary fast food can enjoy a roast beef sandwich at Arby's or ice cream at Dairy Queen or Smiley's. Chicken and fish can be had at Kentucky Fried Chicken and Long John Silver's.

Anywhere one goes in Streetsboro it is hard to pass up a fast food restaurant. After every sporting event or just on an ordinary Saturday night there are always some SHS students hanging out at one of the fast food areas. Every day at SHS the seniors are faced with the decision of where to go for open lunch.

Face it! Anywhere you go in Streetsboro you can "Have it your way." This 1991-92 Golden Key yearbook wants to let you "Have it your way." So, sit back with a cheeseburger, small beverage, and a large fry and leaf through the memories of the 1991-92 school year.

Halloween!!!

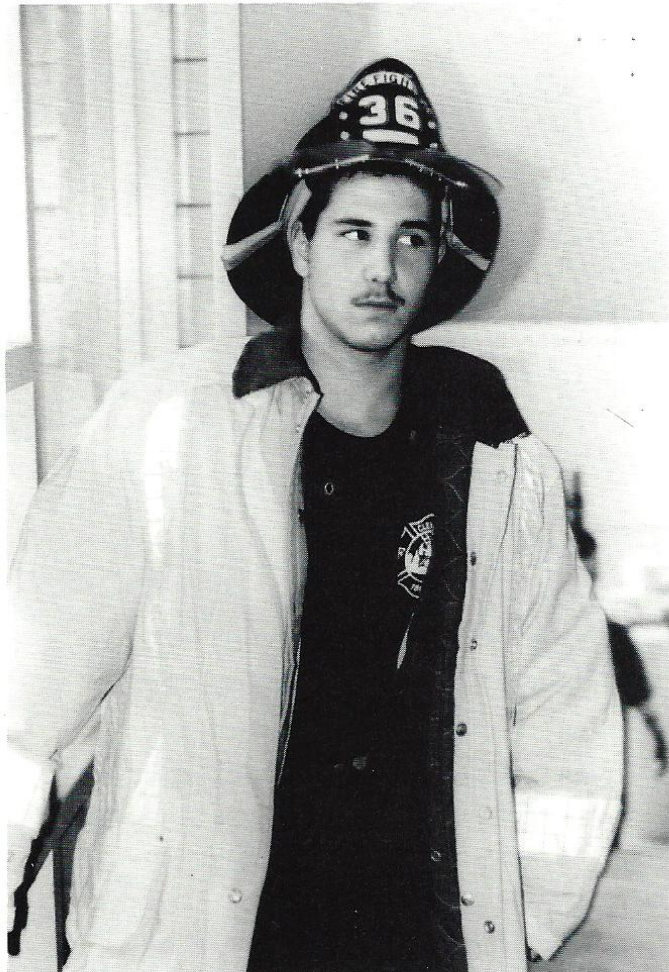

Students dress up for the occasion

As summer ends and fall is near one can tell by the coming of costumes and candy also known as Halloween. Halloween has become a tradition here, as dressing up at the high school is not an event at most schools. The students this year handled themselves well and set the pace for years to come.

The Halloween spirit was contagious this year, with a lot of people participating. Costumes ranged from Dolly Parton to a Christmas Tree.

"It was a lot of fun getting dressed up," stated junior Mellissa Flick (Christmas tree). "I am really looking forward to doing it again."

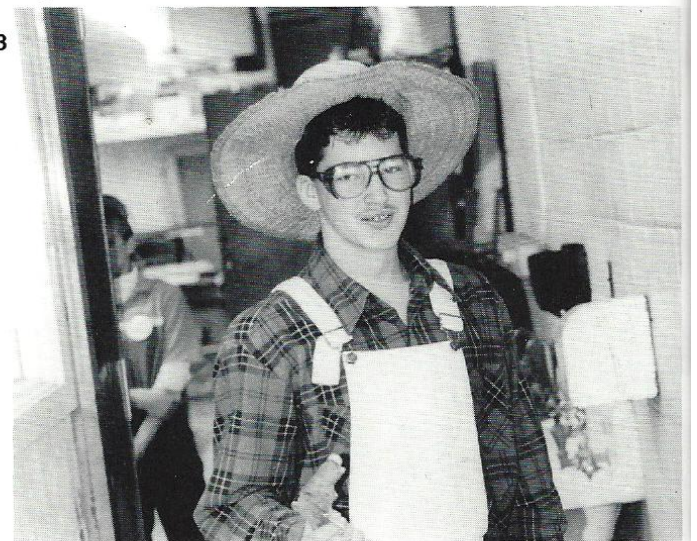

Many people went for the simpler face painting such as junior Ed Davis. There were a couple of cross dressers to add flare to the day.

Classes compete once again during School spirit is always tested every year during the week of Homecoming. Spirit week began October 8 and lasted until the 11. This year the week began with the classes sporting their spirit with unusual attire. Monday, the seniors carried on the tradition by wearing togas, juniors wore rain coats and shower caps, while sophomores wore tie-dye, and the freshmen wore plaid. Tuesday everyone was asked to sport their weirdest hairdo. Then Wednesday everyone was asked to dress the opposite sex. The week ended with the entire school wearing blue and gold. Dress was not the only way of showing spirit, contests for the most spirited class were everywhere.

The week long contest of spirit links and for the most spirit was the true test. Sophomores lead the contest with 3,058 links, followed by the seniors who had 2,114 links, in third place with 1,945 links were the freshmen, and rounding out in last place were the juniors with 1,798 links. The seniors won the spirit stick at the pep rally.

Rounding out the last day of spirit week was hall decorating. It revolved around the homecoming theme "Under the Sea." The freshmen won this contest with their depiction of the theme. The seniors placed second, juniors grabbed third and placing last were the sophomores.

Spirit week did not end with the pep rally on Thursday; the homecoming game followed on Friday night. Pregame for homecoming consisted of the announcement of the court, and the Homecoming Queen and King.

Homecoming

This year, Streetsboro High School celebrated its homecoming with the theme "Under the Sea." Pre-game for homecoming consisted of the announcement of the court, and the homecoming queen and king.

The queen's court consisted of freshman Christine Schefel, sophomore Laura Brown, juniors Katie Murdoch and Justina Beres, and seniors Tracey Flick and Rachel Scheffel. Tina Riffle received the crowning of homecoming queen from her sister, and last year's queen Tammy Riffle. "It was a total shock to me," said Tina. "I was not expecting it at all." The king of the court was senior football player Chris Huber.

The dance differed from previous years. It consisted of contests and audience participation. The evening also consisted of dancing. The court danced to the theme song Sea of Love and a few slow dances were present throughout the night. Over 200 people indulged in an evening of nautical fantasy.

Rockets win PCL for first time since 1984 with a 8-2 season tying school record

 The 1991 football team ended the season on top of the standings with an eight and two record that tied a school record. The season started early in the summer with high hopes on the ultimate goal winning the PCL championship.

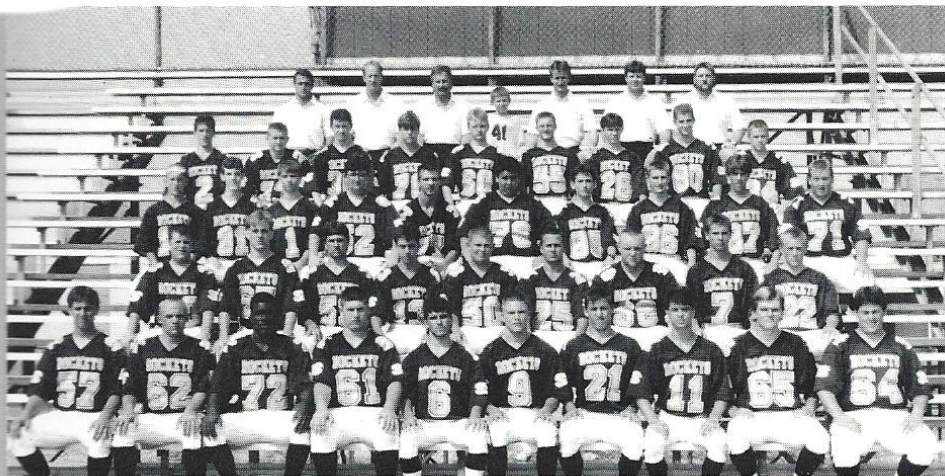

"The team worked hard," stated senior lineman John Dalton. "Regardless of what the score was the team never lost spirit, and that was a key goal that helped us win the league."

The year started off with the Rockets beating Aurora at Glinatsis stadium. The game was televised on TV 29. "It was pretty neat getting up and seeing yourself on TV," said senior lineman Scott King. "We (Rockets) made a good showing over our neighbors which made me proud."

This year the team beat Aurora, Windham, Southeast, Rootstown, Mogadore, Crestwood, Woodridge, and Garfield, with losses to Waterloo and Field to finish 8-2.

This year the Rockets had 11 guys on the PCL team. On first team for the Rockets were seniors Jim Schumaker and Chris Huber. Juniors were Tim Huffman, Kevin Kasarda Brian King, Bob Wirth and Jason Smith. Second team was sophomore Dave Podwoski. Honorable mention were senior Mike Simmons also sophomores Brandon Danner and Mike Benci.

FOR THE FUTURE

Inexperienced Harriers improve running times

The 1991 cross country team did not fare too well this season. The team had its ups and downs due to inexperience, but they had fun along the way. The team worked hard at practices and encouraged one another to put their best foot forward. "We have a young team, and I hope we can build a strong, experienced team for the future," said Coach William O' Donnell, who expresses nothing but positive thoughts on his hard working team.

The team finished ninth in the division, but that did not discourage them. "I think the season went well," stated Freshman Rachel Beech. "Practices were hard, but teamwork, encouragement, and watching the guys run was fun and made it all worth it." The other team members also felt the season had gone well, and a bright future lay ahead of them.

Inexperience hurts cross country runners

SURPRISE!!!

Fifth place finish pleases coach - Gahagan repeats

 As the Streetsboro Rocket's golf team finished this season, they placed fifth in the PCL marking. The team finished the league tournament with a total score of 363 points. "I was surprised with our final finish. I thought we played very well the last one-third of the season," said Coach Bill Buemi. The Rockets compiled a record of 7-7.

The team will be struggling next year without top scorer senior Kevin Gahagan. Kevin has received all PCL for the past two years. "I was proud to receive all PCL for the second year. I had a lot of support from my teammates and coaches from other schools participating in the tournament," stated Kevin. Some players from the current year will have to stand in and take Kevin's place. If that doesn't happen it will be a tough season next year, but the team will manage.

"It was so much fun playing with the team. I wish we could have finished out the season better but, I'll always remember the intensity of the Mogadore game and the feeling of us winning that game," said senior Tina Riffle.

The 1991-1992 volleyball season ended with a 4-16 record. The Lady Rockets got two new coaches in Mrs. Janet Peare as a varsity coach and Mrs. Michelle Forsyth as a junior varsity coach. Throughout the season the team worked hard and the record does not do the team justice. Their biggest game of the season was beating the Mogadore Wildcats which was one of the top teams at the time.

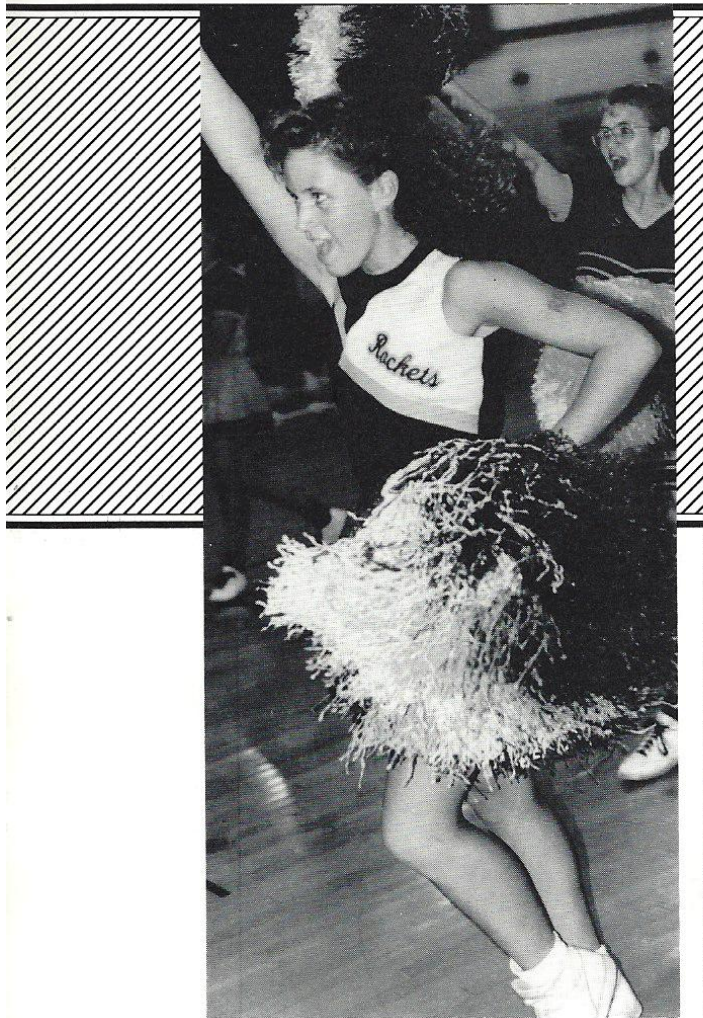

After the season was over, the team traveled to Chagrin Falls to tournaments. For the first game they played the Aurora Greenmen. It went into three close games, but the Rockets came out ahead. They then played a team called Laurel. It was a close game, but the ladies did not come out on top. "We played this game with everything we had; it was really a heartbreaking defeat. We were tired and they were pumped up, but we pretty much stayed with them in terms of scoring. The scores were 10-15, 13-15 there were really exciting games," said senior co-captain Amy Scott.

The team once again had a person make all-PCL first team. For senior Melissa Yoder this has been her second year on it. "It is a special honor to be selected both times and something I'll never forget! I have really enjoyed playing these last four years and I am really sad that it is over," said the senior.

ew dances, cheers, chants and routines are just a few things the Streetsboro varsity, JV, and freshmen cheerleaders learned over the summer when they attended Eastern Cheerleading Association Camp held at Otterbine College, in Westerville, Ohio.

While there, the girls competed in many group competitions. They were judged on appearance, exact movement, facial expressions and voice. The winners won ribbons for their performances. Streetsboro varsity squad won most spirited in the entire camp. They were also judged for best all around cheerleader. Tracey Flick won this award.

"I was really excited! I didn't think I had a chance because one of the squads, Cambridge, had a lot of good cheerleaders who compete in Nationals every year. I was happy I received recognition for something I love and put a lot of time and hard work into. I think it's a good step towards cheering in college," said Tracey.

The girls got up every morning at 6 a.m. They did aerobics and practiced in the gym from 9 -noon. After lunch, the girls had a few hours to relax. Then it was time to practice with personal instructors. After practice was over, evaluation took place.

When the girls finished demonstrating their new cheers, it was time for the award ceremony. By the time the award ceremony was over, the girls were exhausted and ready for bed. Lights had to be out at 11 p.m.

The 1991-1992 flag corp and majorette line at SHS combined efforts to perform spectacular shows for their audiences. They performed in various band shows, concerts and parades, along with Friday night football games.

Over summer the girls attended two mandatory camps, band camp and flag/majorette camp. At the Fred J. Miller Clinic that was held at Wright State University in Columbus, the girls took outstanding ratings. Band Camp was held at Camp Muskingham in Carrollton, Ohio. The flag corp was led by junior captain Laurel Darrah and co-captains Jennifer Rusnak and Jill Vorell. Members of the corp include junior Susan Todd, sophomores Michelle Koleszar and Dayna Rankin, and freshmen Staci Dalton and Sheri Hawkins.

Basketball team caps tough season

This year's boys' basketball team ended the season with a 7-15 record. The team ended up runner up in the sectional. The Rockets won their first game against JFK, and lost the second to Windham 51-49.

"The team played very well in tournaments," said head coach Terry Peterson. "We definitely played better in the tournaments than we played at the beginning of the year. It took some time for the team to adjust and start playing to their full ability."

Leading the team this year in average points per game was senior Jim Dod with 13.9 who also led in rebounds with 10.2 a game and 5.8 blocks. Jim ended up with 305 total points and 224 rebounds. Other leaders for the Rockets are senior Kevin Gahagan with 109 assists with an average of 5.0 a game. Junior John Zelenak led with best free throw percentage with 85%, best three point field goal percentage with 33% and led the team with 46 steals. Junior Bob Wirth led with best two point field goal percentage at 55%.

Lady Rockets attempt a comeback...

The 1991-1992 girls' basketball team ended the season with a 3-18 record. The record does not show the effort which the Lady Rockets put forth all season. "We stuck together all year and worked hard," said head girls' basketball coach Tom Pollock. "We definitely improved with all the hard work the girls showed. If the girls work hard in the off-season, they will come back next year ready to play some basketball."

The seniors are definitely going to miss playing basketball next year. "I wish we would have had a better record during the season but I did have fun and the team stayed together the whole year and team attitude is how I rate how a year went," said senior Tina Riffle.

Although losing three seniors next year, everyone is hopeful for a better season next year. "We're going to miss the seniors next year, but I think we will still have the hustle and aggressiveness that we had this year," said Coach Pollock.

Leading the team with rebounds this year was junior Amy Marez with 134 followed by junior Krista Sabo with 130. Leading the team with steals is also Marez with 45 steals followed by senior Tina Riffle and Sabo with 44. Marez also led the team in total points with 206 followed by Sabo with 131 and Riffle with 111.

State Champs!

Boardwines cop titles, lead team to 4th in state

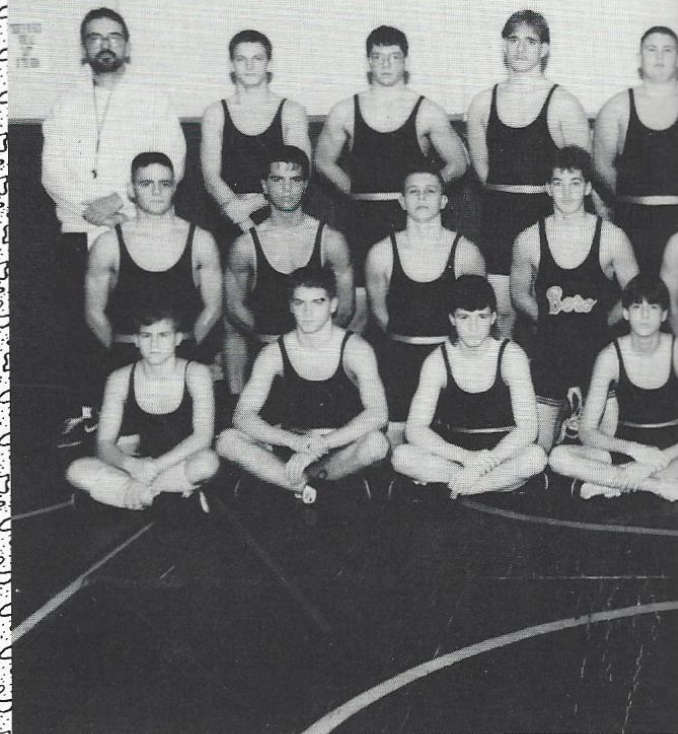

This year's wrestling team ended up in second place in the PCL behind the Southeast Pirates. The Rockets had four sectional champs, senior Jim Boardwine and juniors Joe Boardwine, Kevin Kasarda and Jason Smith. The grapplers ended up being third overall out of over fifty teams in the district. "The team worked hard and became competitive during the season," said Coach Larry Marek. "We won eight matches, and we beat Crestwood which we haven't done in four years."

The team sent three grapplers to state with the hope of having a state champ. "We had a pretty good draw at state," stated Marek. "Smith had the hardest out of the three in the draw."

Senior Jim Boardwine and his brother Joe Boardwine were at state last year for the Rockets. "The state tournament is the hardest I have ever had to wrestle," said Joe. "There is a lot of good guys, the best in the state, and it is just an honor to be there."

The Boardwine brothers both won the state at their weight classes, while a disappointing ankle injury killed Smith's chance. This was only the second and third time someone from Streetsboro has won State. It was a great accomplishment for them.

"It was the greatest feeling in the world," said Jim "It was something I worked for all my life, and I finally accomplished it."

Sectional Champs!!!

Rockets win second straight baseball title

The 1992 Rocket baseball team had yet another excellent season. The Rockets placed third in the PCL and had an excellent showing in the state tournaments. The Rockets captured their second straight sectional championship and lost in the district tournament. "I think we have gotten better every year," said junior Tim Huffman. "Next year I think we have a shot at being PCL champions."

The Rocket pitching staff performed well this season with junior John Zelenak being the bright spot. Zelenak had the team's lowest ERA (1.29) and the team's second best record (5-4). Zelenak received first team All-PCL honors at the position. Juniors Bob Wirth and Tim Lutz also performed excellently for the Rockets.

On the offensive end, The Rockets struggled a little bit. The team was not with out its hitters though. Senior Chris Huber and junior Tim Huffman had outstanding years. Huber batted .397 on the season and held the team's top on-base percentage with .519. Huffman was the team's power hitter leading the team in triples and home runs. He also led in stolen bases.

On the whole, the Rockets turned in an excellent season and are hoping to do more of the same in the future.

Softball

Lady Rockets fall short of expectations

The 1992 Lady Rockets softball team closed off its season feeling just a little shorted on their accomplishments. The Rockets finished the season with a 9-9 PCL record, and 13-9 overall. "I feel a little disappointed with our record, but only because we had too much talent on this team to be mediocre, and I had high expectations of competing heavily for the PCL title," said coach Bill Buemi.

The Rockets had a very talented group of girls on their squad, but had a tough time working together as a team. "We had a lot of great players on our team, it's just that we made too many mental mistakes as a team," said junior left fielder Susan Todd. "We were as good or better than every team we played in the PCL. We just didn't get any of the breaks when we needed them."

Another major reason the Rockets lost the games they did, is a lack of a solid defense. "We made a lot of errors, especially at the beginning of the season, that cost us quite a few ball games," said Coach Buemi.

Junior catcher Sharon Vasickinan had this to say about the defense, "It just seemed like in a lot of the tough games we would play solid for a good three or four innings, and then the defense would just fall apart, turning a tight game into a blowout."

Run For The Border

Track teams rebuild in hope of the future

Boys' track had what some would say a disappointing year, while on the other hand some would say an important year. The track team consisted of mostly freshmen which hurt the team due to lack of experience. "This year was a rebuilding year for us," explained boys' head coach Jerry Judd. "The team had a learning year. I was proud that we won two meets; it was more than I expected."

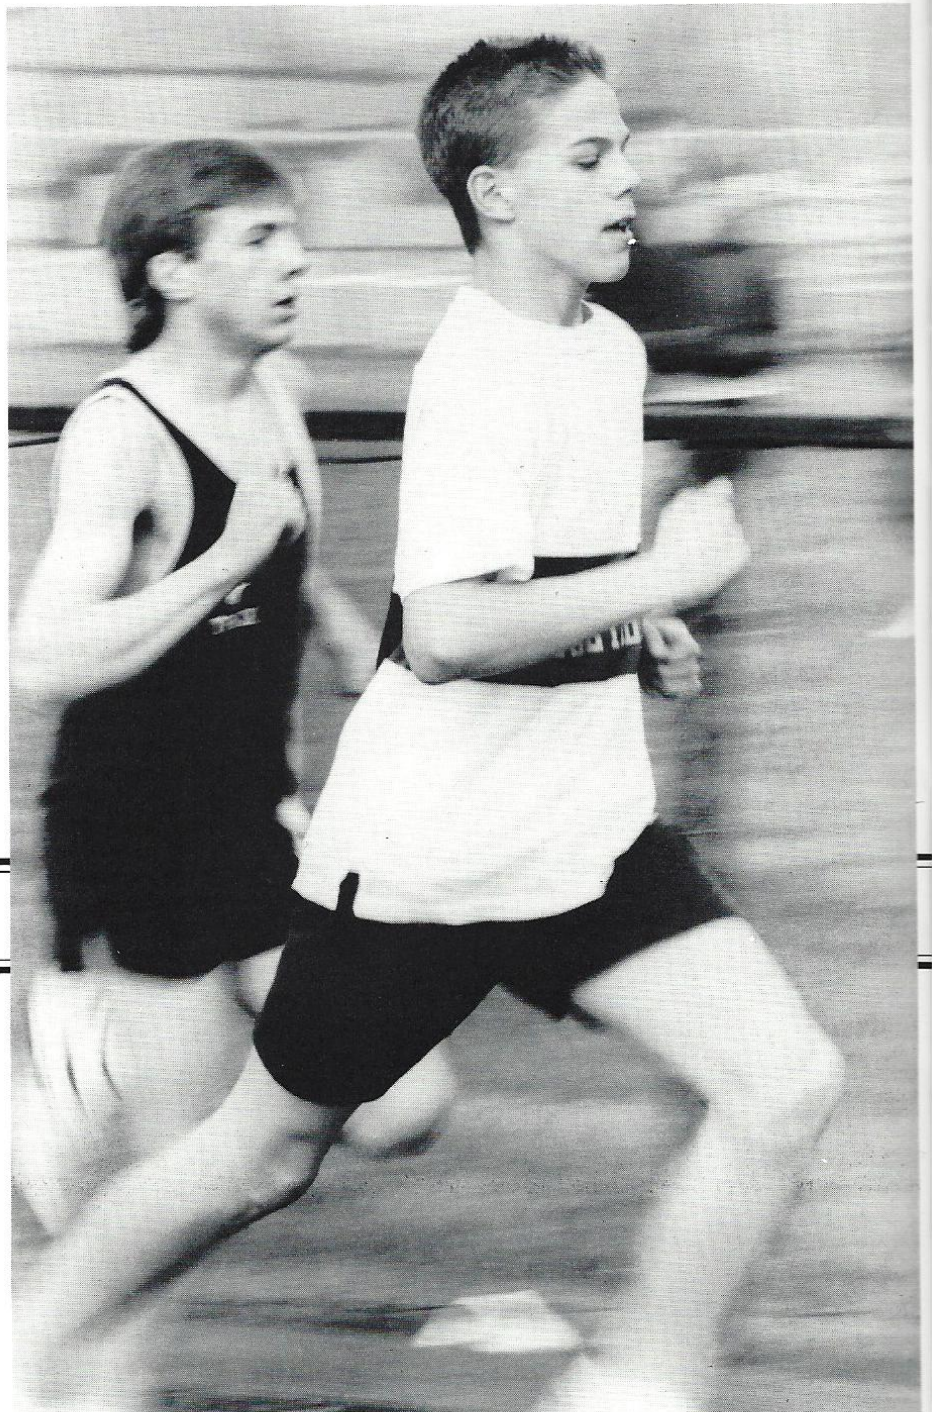

The Rockets ended their season with a loss to the Garfield G-men 59-64. The Rocket team had a 2-9 dual meet record ending eighth in the PCL.

Leading scorer for the Rockets was Dave Podwoski with 127 points followed by long distance runner Gary Bennett. Shot and discus throwers Greg Vance with 33 points and Mike Simmons with 30 were third and fourth on the scoring list.

Girls' track was hurt by the lack of numbers they had. The girls' track team was also a freshman dominated team. "Just like the boys' team we were also in you would call a rebuilding year," said girls' head coach Janet Peare. "The numbers definitely hurt the team. If we could have some more girls in key places, it would have been a different year."

The girls also ended their season with a loss to the Garfield G-men.

The leader in total points for the Rockets was Amy Marez with 98 points followed close behind by Jan Dempsey who had 95 total team points.

Student Council

What you see is what you get!!

Imagine a school year of just classes, lunch, and home? Well that's how it would be if it weren't for Student Council.

Student council participates in many of the activities that take place here at SHS. For instance, during the Homecoming week, students show their school spirit by involving themselves in the activities that student council has chosen for that day. Some of the activities selected are from dressing up in shower caps and rain coats to wearing dots on their forehead.

Another activity student council performs is the Bloodmobile. Every year many students take time out of their busy schedules to donate one pint of blood to the needed.

Journalism

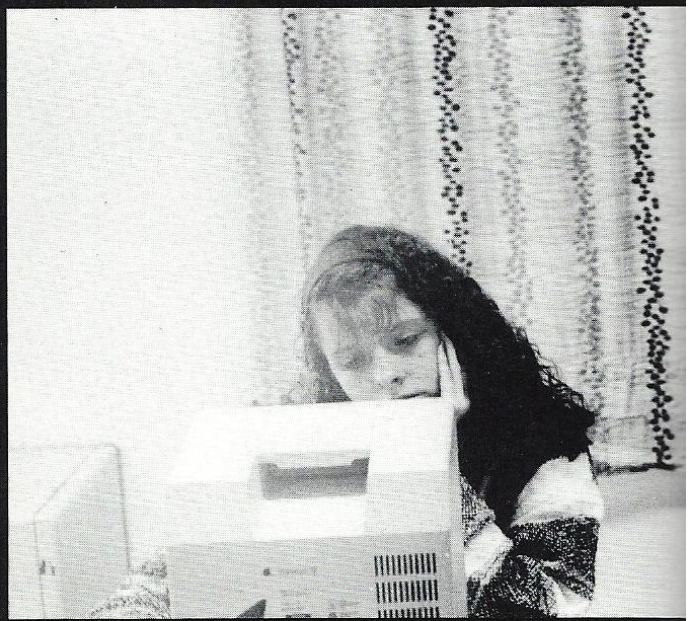

Golden Key, Orbiter staff

The Journalism classes at SHS work together throughout the year to put out an award-winning school newspaper, The Orbiter and Golden Key yearbook. The 89 students who make up The Orbiter staff write stories to be published in the paper. Editors of The Orbiter are Marcie Prejna, Editor-in-Chief; Andrew Robitaille, Junior Editor; Loretta Higgins, News Editor; Amy Scott, Feature Editor; Mike Simmons and Brian King Sports Editors; Jennifer Talpas, Business and Circulation Editor; Andrew Robitaille and Amanda Heeter, Photography Editors; Andrew Robitaille, Cartoonist; and Dave Hostetler, Advisor.

For the 13 years it has been in existence, The Orbiter has been ranked #1 by the American Scholastic Press Association. It has also been one of the top three rated papers by its publishing company, A. G. Halldin, which prints over 500 high school and college newspapers.

The Orbiter has undergone many changes over the past 13 years. The original staff consisted of only four people. When Dave Hostetler began advising the newspaper, the Journalism class decided to call it "The Orbiter."

Spanish Club enjoys taste of culture

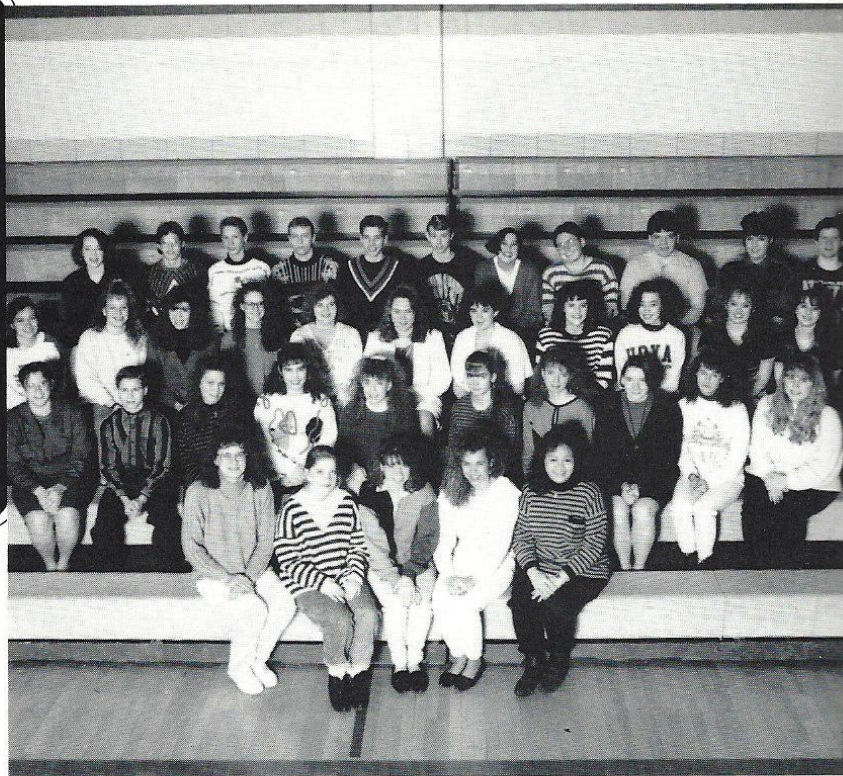

his year the Spanish Club, under the direction of Senora Evans, has done many activities to help them better understand the Spanish culture. The club has dined at Marcellita's, attended a Spanish ballet entitled the "Ballet Folklorico of Mexico," hosted at Spanish Christmas dinner for the senior citizens, listened to guest speakers, and in the near future the club plans on hosting an exchange day. Members also took a trip to the art museum in Cleveland to get a better idea as to what Spanish art is about. To raise money for these activities the club held an EL GRANDE POP fundraiser earlier in the year.

The club meets once a month either in the morning before school or directly after school. At these meetings the students feast on Spanish snacks, and either have a guest speaker or discuss up coming activities for the group to participate in. The meetings are organized by club officers, Sarah Mercado, Denise Hovanetz, Kim Berry, and Jenny Skonieczny.

Don't Drink the Water!

Drama club performs Woody Allen's play in dinner theater setting

The large cast of 20 students kept the audience of around 310 people laughing at the Drama club's performance of Woody Allen's "Don't Drink the Water." The Drama club tried something new this year by presenting a dinner theater format similar to the Carousel Theater.

The curtain opened, after dinner, to reveal the United States Embassy of a Communist country. Even the first scene was loaded with laughs. The scene introduced probably the most outspoken character, a caterer from New Jersey, Walter Hollander who was vacationing behind the Iron Curtain in Europe.

Hollander was played by junior Brian King who gave an excellent performance filled with emotion and strong convincing facial expressions. Hollander, his wife Marion, and daughter Susan were forced to stay in the embassy when they were mistaken for spies when they were taking pictures in a restricted.

Melissa Flick had the unenviable job of portraying King's long suffering wife. Katie Murdoch was outstanding as the couple's daughter. The family was followed by

"If we leave the building they'll kill us, simple enough..." says Water Hollander played by junior Brian King, concerning the communist soldiers surrounding the American Embassy. Axel Magee played by senior Kevin T. Rees looks on, (1).

"Everyone in the foreign service is sometimes asked to leave the country..." says Axel Magee, but Ms. Kilroy refuses to let off her assault, (2).

"I will kill you, even if I have to use my own hands..." demands communist police leader Krojack, played by senior Scott King, (3).

"Susan, have you been smoking the drapes..." asks Axel Magee as he talks to Susan Hollander, junior Katie Murdoch, (4).

the communist police led by Krojack, played by senior Scott King.

Kevin Rees was excellent as the stumbling bumbling ambassador's son Axel Magee. Jim Boardwine also did well as Axel's father. The one good break he gets is falling in love with Susan Hollander.

A wacky priest, Father Drobney was played by freshman Andy Murray.

Striking bit parts were turned in by Ben Finley as the zanny chef, Rachel Scheffel as the goofy french maid, and Shannon Gahagan as the ambassador's assistant Ms. Kilroy.

Junior Class

Class of 93 take

The Junior Olympics once again proved to be a fun release from the stress of finals. The Junior Olympics is a series of outrageous stunts in the form of an olympic style competition. The competitors this year all did an excellent job and made the afternoon enjoyable to all. The faculty team consisted of Terry Peterson, Jerry more was Chris Zemba, Jason Ogdon, Jon Seiverth, Jodi Esperson, Laura Brown, and Melanie Flemming.

Finally, the freshman team consisted of Kwona Nicholas, Kris Jankowski, Brad Sladky, Jim Wirth, Jenny Luke, and Mary Wagner.

The juniors took home the honors of being champions this year by betting out the seniors in a close race. The sophomores held a close third while the faculty came in fourth. The freshmen finished in last but hope to do better next year.

"I thought Junior Olympics went really well this year," said junior Melissa Flick. "The games were fun and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves."

Seniors surrender Olympic crown

Katie's teammate Bob Wirth looks like he's struggling with his pizza assignment. Katie and Bob's team was victorious, (2).

Science teacher Carol Lutz attempts to regain the edge for the faculty team, (3).

Sophomore favorite Chris Zemba prepares to dig in to find the cherry in the bowl resting on Heather Scheffel's lap, (4).

Jason Ogdon does his best for the sophomore team during the eating portion of the competition, (5).

Cooking and Cleaning

Cooks, Custodians keep school going

There are many behind the scenes activities that occur in a normal school year that affects the school in many ways. No one notices all the work done by the cafeteria workers and the janitors.

This year the cafeteria cooks consist of Mrs. Joan Demich, Mrs. Dianna Ondash and Mrs. Rosanne Moldvay. "The year is going smoothly," said Mrs. Moldvay. "The kids seem to have good attitudes. I have seen many good changes in the kids in the past couple of years."

Andy Jandrokovic is in charge of keeping the school clean inside and out. Andy is currently in his 27th year of service with Streetsboro High school. "The school has definitely changed in the past 27 years," said Andy.

Have it your way

Cafeteria cooks Rosanne Moldvay and Joan Demich get ready for study hall crowd for their morning breakfast, (1).

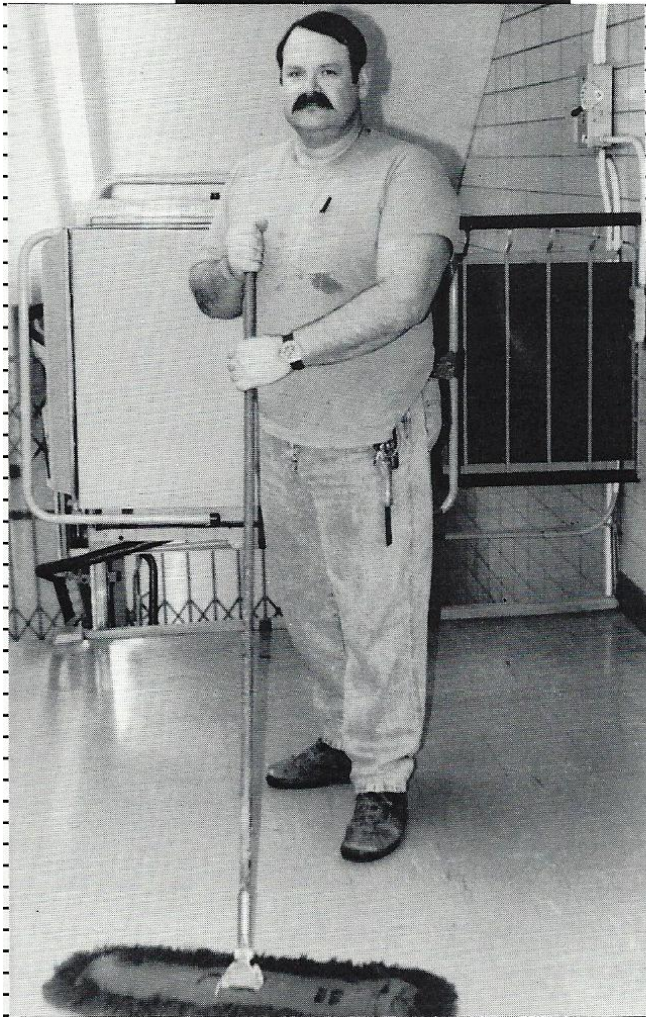

Mrs. Dianna Ondash cooks up a turkey preparing for the Thanksgiving lunch that the school provides every year, (2).

Night janitor Bill Farres takes time out of cleaning the school to pose for a quick picture, (3).

Bob Davenport and Carl Hahn work on fixing up the school, (5).

On the edge of...

A Dream

Prom lives up to theme

A moonlit evening by a shimmering lake alone in a small gazebo with a favorite person. What more could a person want? This and much more is what awaited Streetsboro Prom goers when they enjoyed an evening at Aurora's Sun Valley Party Center.

Dana Anielski and Damon Picone probably thought they were in the middle of a dream as they were crowned Queen and King for the night. Both were amazed they were named by their classmates. "I wasn't sure if I would get it or not, so when they said my name I was really surprised," said Damon.

"I was shocked," said Dana. "I never imagined that I would be picked as queen. I was just happy to be on Prom court."

After dining and dancing in Aurora, couples journeyed to Stonehedge in Akron for Afterprom. Visiting with friends, eating pizza, playing games and listening to music ended a memorable evening.
