Once upon a time, in a land not so far away, the students of Streetsboro High School were locked in a dungeon they called "school." The students knew that their spirit was lacking and that their hero, "Rocket Man," was on his way to solve their problem.

Once Rocket Man arrived, he found the problem impossible for one man to fix, so he was forced to bring in his secret weapons.....

Mark and Joanne Jaremko

Mark,

When you were born, you brought great happiness into our lives. As you grew and started school you learned to work hard and make new friends. You have used your strengths to move ahead and battled your weaknesses to overcome them. You have proven that you can accomplish whatever you set your mind to. As you graduate high school, we have great hopes for you. One hope is that your brilliant mind takes you to places only imagined. We couldn't be more proud of you or love you more.

Mom and Dad

Joanne,

You came into this world a miracle of God. Like the phoenix you rose up and fought to survive. You continue to prove that you have the strength to overcome any obstacle in your way. You are not afraid to try new things, do your best and move on to another new challenge. Now that you are graduating high school we are confident you will continue to persevere. Our hope is that one day you find true happiness in whatever you do. You are special and we love you more than you will ever know.

It seems like such a short time ago, you were a shy little girl. Now, you've grown into a strong, confident young woman. The joy you have brought to my life is immeasurable. I've loved every minute of cheering you on at soccer games, track and cross country meets. Watching you advance from bouncing around on your pony, Charlie, to your graceful rides on Sydney, has been a source of great pleasure for me. The time and effort you put into all you do has enabled you to excel in so many areas. The kind of self-motivation you possess, along with your work ethic, will take you far. Chris, Sal, Derrek, Ray, Vic & Rocky:
On behalf of the basketball coaching staff, I would like to wish you luck in all you do beyond Streetsboro High School. Whether you are attending college or joining the workforce, always remember the principles that were stressed during the season spent with me: "Respect, Accountability and Discipline." Exhibiting these simple words will leave a lasting impression on all of the people that you meet. I am living proof, because you guys have certainly made a lasting impression on me. In my first year as head coach, I will never forget my "first set of seniors." Thank you for all of the great memories.
