Streetsboro High School

Here, there...anywhere

Beginning the '16-'17 school year was bittersweet. Because the original SHS building on Annalane Drive holds decades of memories, students and staff wondered if the new building on Route 303 would feel like home. Anxiously awaiting the second semester transition to the new building, Rockets made – and cherished – memories in what would soon become the "old school." Yet all were eager to finally have a building with the necessities they had been living without: the much-needed air conditioning, space and auditorium, and no more having to walk out in the cold to classes in trailers. As halls began filling with packed boxes, walls stripped of decoration and trophy cases emptied, the seemingly distant move started to become a reality. Though the school community had come together in the old building, everyone hoped to feel at home in the new building, and still feel like a Rocket family here, there...anywhere.

CHEERING at the Crestwood game are a group of Rocket Rowdies, led by senior leaders Lindsee Cales and Jake Wagner. "I absolutely love being a leader," said Cales (bottom left). "You always have to be pumped up and positive, even when we [are] down. You don't go to watch the team win, although it's nice. You go to support them no matter what. That's what the Rocket Rowdies are there for."

LAUGHING while trying to pass an orange, in a game that only allowed them to use their necks, are juniors Chloe Skladoni and Marie Kallay. The girls were participating in a new activity during the homecoming pep rally. "At first it was really awkward, but then it was funny, because of how hard and weird it was," Skladoni said. "It made people look like they were kissing, but they really weren't."

Students travel here & there

Adventures from Kent to Italy

1. WHILE walking down the streets of Soho, New York, junior Braden Tucker ran into actress Victoria Justice. "I walked to her and we started talking like normal people," Tucker said. "It was a really cool experience, her family is really nice and humble."

2. FOR his first NFL football experience, Josh Saucier attended the Green Bay Packers vs. the Indianapolis Colts game with fellow freshmen Miguel Cruz, Kameron Fisher, and a friend from another school (back row). "We stayed there for about two hours because there were rumors that it was cancelled," Saucier said. "They used the wrong paint in the end zone so it was too slippery for the players to play on."

3. DINING with her grandmother during their vacation to Russia is junior Dyanmond Goodman (second from left). "It was a great experience, but I am grateful for where and who I am in this world," Goodman said. "It was so sad seeing their surroundings and how they live...the past of this country, it shows when walking the streets."

Romance brings CLE to Italy

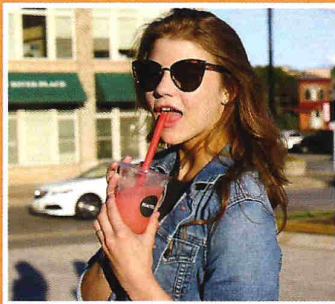

Visiting Rome, Florence, Venice and Lake Como, P.E. teacher Krista Romance took on Italy in June with 20 friends and family members. "It was my mom's dream," she said. "She was always afraid to go to Italy because she didn't want to fly. She finally got the courage, and then she begged me and my husband to go with her." When in Rome, Romance did a lot of sightseeing, from The Colosseum to St. Peter's Basilica. They also took a boat tour of Lake Como. "We did everything," she said. "We visited fantastic restaurants and wineries, we'd have lunch at the wineries in the vineyard on the countryside of Italy." After the trip had already been booked, the Cavaliers made it to the NBA finals, which left this Cleveland sports fan with a tough decision. "We actually considered not going to Italy, like we actually were like 'well we might miss the parade if Cleveland wins the championship,'" she recalled. "I remember talking to Mr. Hogue about it, and he goes 'No, you go to Italy because you'll have a story to tell.'" Although she was upset she could not be home for the win, when Romance returned to Ohio, she relived the seventh game of the series with her husband and friends. "It was bitter sweet," she said. "But our experience was so unique, I wouldn't take it back for anything."

5. ON Wildwater Kingdom's closing day, freshman Madi Dundon went with friends. "To be honest, by the last day, we were tired of going there so much, it didn't really hit home," Dundon said. "Looking back on it and thinking about what I'm going to do with my summer, WWK closing is pretty depressing."

6. CHEERLEADERS celebrate winning the Banana Award, for being the most spirited team at camp. Sophomore Jessica Zelasko was excited to win the award for her first year on Varsity. "It's so exciting for all of the girls because we work hard to show our spirit, be loud and have fun to win it," she said.

8. JULY 30 Haley Shaw and her stepdad went to an Indian's game for Father's Day. "I'm not really a big Indians fan," Shaw said. "I bought him the tickets since he's my father figure. I appreciate him being the best guy in my life."

9. STANDING in the CN Tower in Toronto, Canada is senior Rachel Woods. "It was kind of extremely scary being that high. I couldn't let go of the railing," Woods said. This was the last stop in her summer vacation, following her trip to Spain.

WITH summer '16 under their belts, students prepare themselves for what the school year will bring. Starting off with another new vice principal, Aaron Newman, and trying to contain their excitement for the new school that is just over the horizon, several exciting events take off.

Under the Friday night lights, the football team loses to its rival, the Crestwood Red Devils, after not being in the same division for three years. Fourth grader Makayla Claflin is diagnosed with leukemia and students and staff show their support through monetary donations and wearing orange to the September 23 football game. Woodridge fans joined in as well and showed their support. Interim directors Scott Curfman and Mason Smith take charge of the marching band. Cheerleaders dominate at their annual summer camp. Senior Emily Nuber and freshmen Lexyn Blankenship and Madi Dundon each receive the title of All American Cheerleader, giving Nuber the option to travel and cheer in a parade in London, and Blankenship and Dundon the same opportunity in Philadelphia. After a winning drought of several years, the boys soccer team ends its best season with a record of 6-9-1. The volleyball team became PTC champs October 11 and ended with a record of 7-6.

Teachers have memorable summers as well: P.E. teacher Krista Romance cheers on the Cavs from Rome, Italy; English teacher Maralee Lellio announces her pregnancy; librarian Jill Selak's baby boy is welcomed into the world; Helen Hajduk becomes the new math teacher; and Alisha Bohn moves from the middle school to the French trailer following Mary Murphy's retirement.

With all the coming changes, the students and staff flooding the halls of Streetsboro High School realize that they are a family here, there, anywhere.

Fall

LEADING the band through the pre-game number, "Fly By Night" by Rush, is junior drum major Liam Salvage. "In the beginning of the season, I had a feeling of dread going on the field to twirl, because I was new and expected to mess up," Salvage said. This season, he added, he was able to lead better based on input from the other marchers and the bonds they formed.

Students often wear Cleveland gear to support the Cavaliers and Indians, though this year the support was more significant with both local professional teams playing for championship titles. The Indians fell short 3-4 in the World Series to the Chicago Cubs. However, earlier this year, the Cavs were able to pull off a 4-3 win over the Golden State Warriors to become the 2016 NBA Champions. This then led to a parade, which many students and staff attended to see the NBA stars and other local celebrities such as rapper Machine Gun Kelly.

It was a bittersweet celebration for students at the last home football game to be played in the stadium at the old school.

"I'm going to miss a lot about the old stadium," junior Mikayla Davidson said, "like how we had to squeeze together on the bleachers just to fit by our friends, but I'm looking forward to making more memories at the new stadium."

"I'm going to miss all the memories we've made from first grade up to now," freshman Logan Campbell said.

Senior Jake Wagner said it was a great Rowdies season and he hopes the underclassman act just as crazy as he did next year. Wagner also led the campaign to raise money in support of fourth grader Makayla Claflin, who has leukemia. Rocket fans also dressed up in orange and bought shirts to support Claflin and her family.

LOOKING off into distance before the September game starts is freshman Nate Hall. "High school band was different in a lot of ways but in some ways the same," Hall said. "We had to memorize a lot more in marching band than we did in concert band, a lot more was expected of us."

Marching Band

How was your senior year in marching band?

"Leaving the marching band is devastating. It's been the best part of high school and walking away from it is very upsetting."

- Emily Frost

"Being drum major I was a leader this year," I feel like I had to step it up with the absence of Mrs. Weaver and Ellsworth because the band looked to me for answers. The pressure was quite a bit to deal with, but at the end of the day the band is a family and we always stick with one another." - Jeremy Grabowski

SENIOR Sidney Grimm and sophomore Matt Buckley capture a moment. "I feel like our friendship started off as him looking up to me as a role model," Sidney Grimm said. "But now I'm not sure who looks to who. I always enjoy talking to Buckley, and we always find ourselves working well together."

Starting off the summer with a bang, the Rocket Marching Band had to carry on without directors Gretchen Weaver, Shane Ellsworth and Rachel Lenk after issues at band camp led to them to being placed on administrative leave. Mason Smith and Scott Curfman stepped in and directed the band, with the help of drum major Jeremy Grabowski and assistant drum major, junior Liam Salvage. Taking on "All of the Lights" during their first show, they performed modern music to entertain the younger demographic, varying from "Confident" by Demi Lovato, to ending the night with "Victorious" by Panic! at the Disco. While performing in the Medina Band Show and their regular halftime shows, the band finished out the season with Curfman stepping down due to medical issues, and Smith taking over for the remainder of the season.

8. TAKING a break from performing at the September 23 football game for Makayla Claflin, a Streetsboro fourth grader diagnosed with leukemia earlier this year, are a group of band members. "I love band camp," Brandon Sanders said. "Not only do we get to go out on the field, but we get free time to hang out and bond."

9. WATCHING the football game are juniors Jack Liscoe and Nathan Fabiniak. "The reason why I did band and why I am in the clarinet section is because of Jack," Fabiniak said. "We are the only two guys in the section and we are the alpha males, we make jokes all the time."

1. AS each player is announced before a game, the boys huddle together. "I love the simplicity of the game in its general structure," said senior captain Jacob Fifik. "The whole team has gotten a lot better at finding a play style and executing said play style."

2. STRIKING the ball against Bedford September 13 is senior Sidney Nguyen. "I love seeing how we improved together, not only as a team but each player individually," Nguyen said. "I love being part of a team that puts blood, sweat and tears into what they love."

3. SHORTLY before the start of the September 20 game against Rootstown, junior Kaelen Torrence warms up by practicing his kicking. "Our teams highlights are our wins," Torrence said. "But the best one is when we were at Norton but none of us stooped to their level and tried to start a fight when they wanted one."

4. SUCCESSFULLY blocking a kick from Waterloo October 11 is junior Nathan Fabiniak. "Being a goalkeeper, you are basically the last form of defense, so you have to have very thick skin and just move to the next save," Fabiniak said. "My team has improved on communicating more and just working together. It's a very big team effort and everyone needs to be locked into the game and needs to do their best, and that's what they've done this season."

5. ATTEMPTING to gain possession of the ball is senior Rayshawn Dublin. "What I love most about playing soccer is playing defense," Dublin said. "I feel like my team and I have improved greatly on that."

6. WHILE being introduced, junior Nathan Vacha high-fives his teammates. "I love fact that I am able to play with my friends," Vacha said. "I am able to improve with the help of them."

7. SOPHOMORE Hunter Schuller plays offense September 20 against Rootstown. "My favorite highlight is when I scored off of a header versus Rootstown," Schuller said. "I feel I have improved not only in playing soccer but also communicating and playing off the ball."

8. DRIBBLING down the field is junior Bailey Deevers. "I'm looking forward to the team's growth for next season," Deevers said. "We are losing several important defensive seniors, so I'm excited to see which underclassmen can step up and fill the gaps that we need in order to keep our success going."

Record 8-8-1

1. PROUDLY displaying their team colors are the Lady Rockets before their Cloverleaf game. "The team always played as whole and we never left anyone behind," sophomore Jessica Marason said. "We played like a family."

2. SOPHOMORE Lauren Brown defends the goal against Tallmadge.

"I took a shot in the game and I thought it went in, but it curved over," Brown said. "I wanted to score on defense, so I was pretty salty, it didn't go in. It would have been raw."

3. PRAYING as a team at halftime are the Lady Rockets. This new tradition was led by senior Brianna Saucier. "Bolyard and Smith had asked if we could start doing it this year, and I was ecstatic," she said. "I had always wanted to but never thought so many would be into it."

4. FRESHMAN Kaylee Kline takes a shot on goal. Kline scored 15 goals this season and also won Second Team PTC honors. "One of my favorite memories was when Krista showed up to practice with her pants on inside out and had no clue," Kline said.

5. DRIBBLING up the field is junior captain Faith Deever. Deever was extremely versatile this year, helping out on both midfield and defense, to win Second Team PTC. "My favorite memory was playing and spending time with my team in Columbus," Deever said. "I love these girls so much and [also loved] being able to play with them on such a great field."

6. SENIOR captain Brianna Saucier transitions the ball up the field. Saucier was named Second Team PTC as center defender. "I had my dream come true this year of leading a team prayer, made the best friendships possible, and got to be captain with my best friend," she said.

7. EMBRACING a teammate on her Senior Night is goalkeeper Tyler Rickard. "Senior Night was honestly very emotional, especially since Rana was crying in my arms," said the PTC Honorable Mention winner, adding, "I have been working so hard...and I'm glad my hard work paid off."

8. SOPHOMORE Krista Prasek protects the ball against Garfield. Prasek also won PTC Honorable Mention. "Playing at the Columbus Crew Stadium was a really cool experience," Prasek said. "It got our team really hype and brought us closer together."

1. SENIOR Jake Suttell is boosted in the air by his teammates after beating the Streetsboro High School record October 8 at Legends Invitational. "Jake had an amazing season and was the hardest working athlete I've ever coached," said coach Tyler Bunch. "He made every meet more exciting with the way he ran."

2. COMPETING at PTCs are sophomore Tkaushy Sims and freshman Max Brace. "This course was a little challenging, which made it fun to run," Sims said. "I noticed Max trailing behind me the whole time, which made me push myself harder."

3. RUNNING ahead of other schools September 13 at Wingfoot State Park is junior Bailey Deevers. "I try to focus on my form and breathing when I run," he said. "I try and race smart, only using more energy when I need to."

4. PUSHING for a strong finish at PTCs is the boys cross country team. "I don't think our place at PTC was necessarily representative of our team," said coach Tyler Bunch. "We are in an extremely difficult conference and have placed better at many invitationals." The boys finished fifth in the Metro division.

5. SENIOR Jake Suttell runs to his second-place finish in the Senior Night race at home against Garfield. "After high school I plan to run marathons that I have on my bucket list," Suttell said. "One of my main goals is to run a qualifying time for the Boston Marathon."

6. RUNNING at districts is freshman Riley Deever. "I think about improving when I run," Deever said. "My goal for next year is to make it on to states."

7. WHILE holding hands, senior Sidney Grimm and sophomore Matt Mitchell run Senior Night at home, side by side. "Us running together naturally happened, so while we run we pace each other," Grimm said. "I wish I would've joined earlier. Jake [Suttell] convinced me to join and I finally did my senior year."

4. SHARING a moment together after PTCs at the Randolph County Fairgrounds are the girl's cross country team and new coach, Lauren Sturdivant. "I enjoyed having a new coach this year," Brace said. "She pushed me and helped me improve throughout the season, and I'm sad I only had her one year."

5. GETTING together before Senior Night are freshman Iliana Mendez, senior Alexa Brace and sophomore Lillian Basar. "My favorite memory for this season was Senior Night," Mendez said. "It was a great course, good food, and a perfect day to recognize our seniors.. We will miss them."

6. SOPHOMORE Lillian Basar leads the race at Wingfoot State Park. Basar explained how running makes her feel "very excited and nervous, like my adrenaline gets going, and it's almost like you're in your own world, because you're in the 'zone.'"

7. PROUDLY receiving her Senior Night rose, and listening to recognition from boys' coach Pete Hannan, is Alexa Brace. "It never really hit me that I was a senior," she said, "until after running with my boyfriend, [and] seeing my name on a cake that had all the seniors' names from Streetsboro and Garfield on it."

My first homecoming was...

"...a night I will never forget.

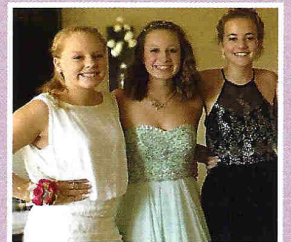

It for sure surpassed my expectations. It's a time where you can see how one dance can bring the whole school together. Being with people who make my high school career worth while made my night."

-Freshman Maci Oslejsek (right)

"...nothing like I expected. I heard so many mixed reviews I had zero idea what to expect. My favorite memory from hoco was watching these two girls doing the worm and really gettin' it."

"...amazing! My favorite memory was when all of our friends and dates came over to take pictures. Everyone was dancing and having fun, and it was just like how I thought it would be."

AS December neared its end, everyone prepared to leave the old school for the very last time. Staff members cleared the walls and packed up their belongings, while students cleaned out their lockers, because after they left for the holidays, the school would become a construction zone.

After winter break, students did not have much time to adjust to the new building before it was time to crack down for midterms. Students had to figure out the academic wing of the building, what the principals referred to as the "horse shoe."

Although the students thought it would be too big to navigate, they quickly adjusted and learned the ins and outs of the new school.

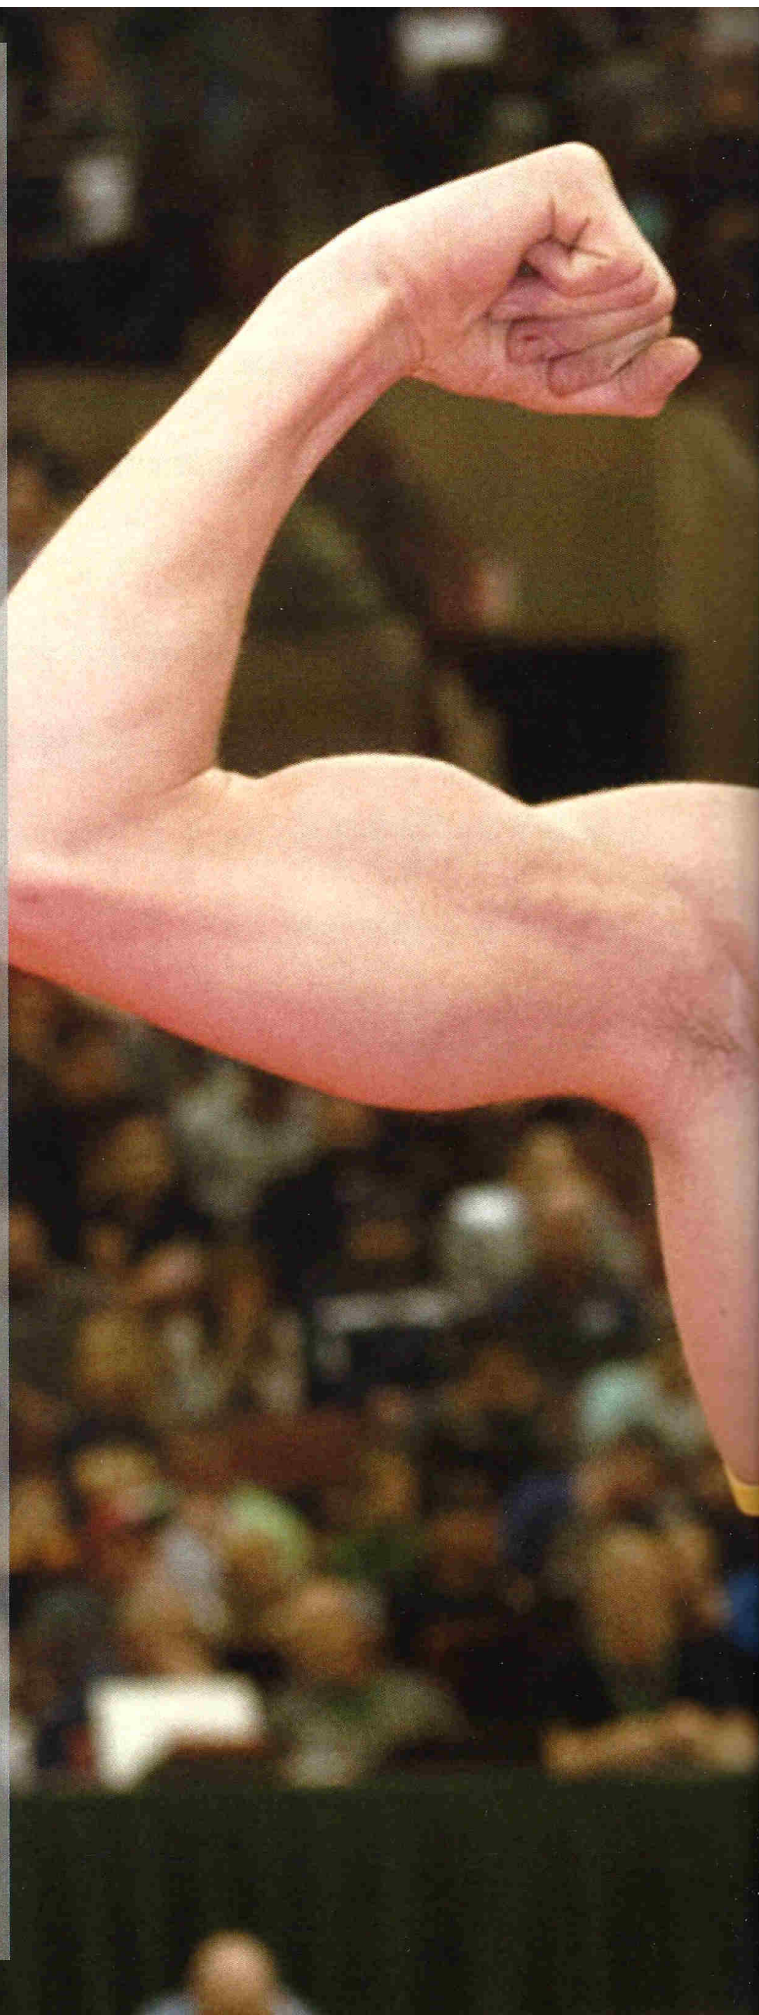

All grades complained about the staff being more strict in the new building, especially about not letting food and drink (other than water) outside of "The Commons." But the majority of the complaints came from the seniors, who had their lunch privileges taken away after the first semester. The Commons – the new lunch room – took some trial and error, as students of all grades and groups got situated to eat together. But, once the second semester began, everything and everyone seemed to start fitting into place.

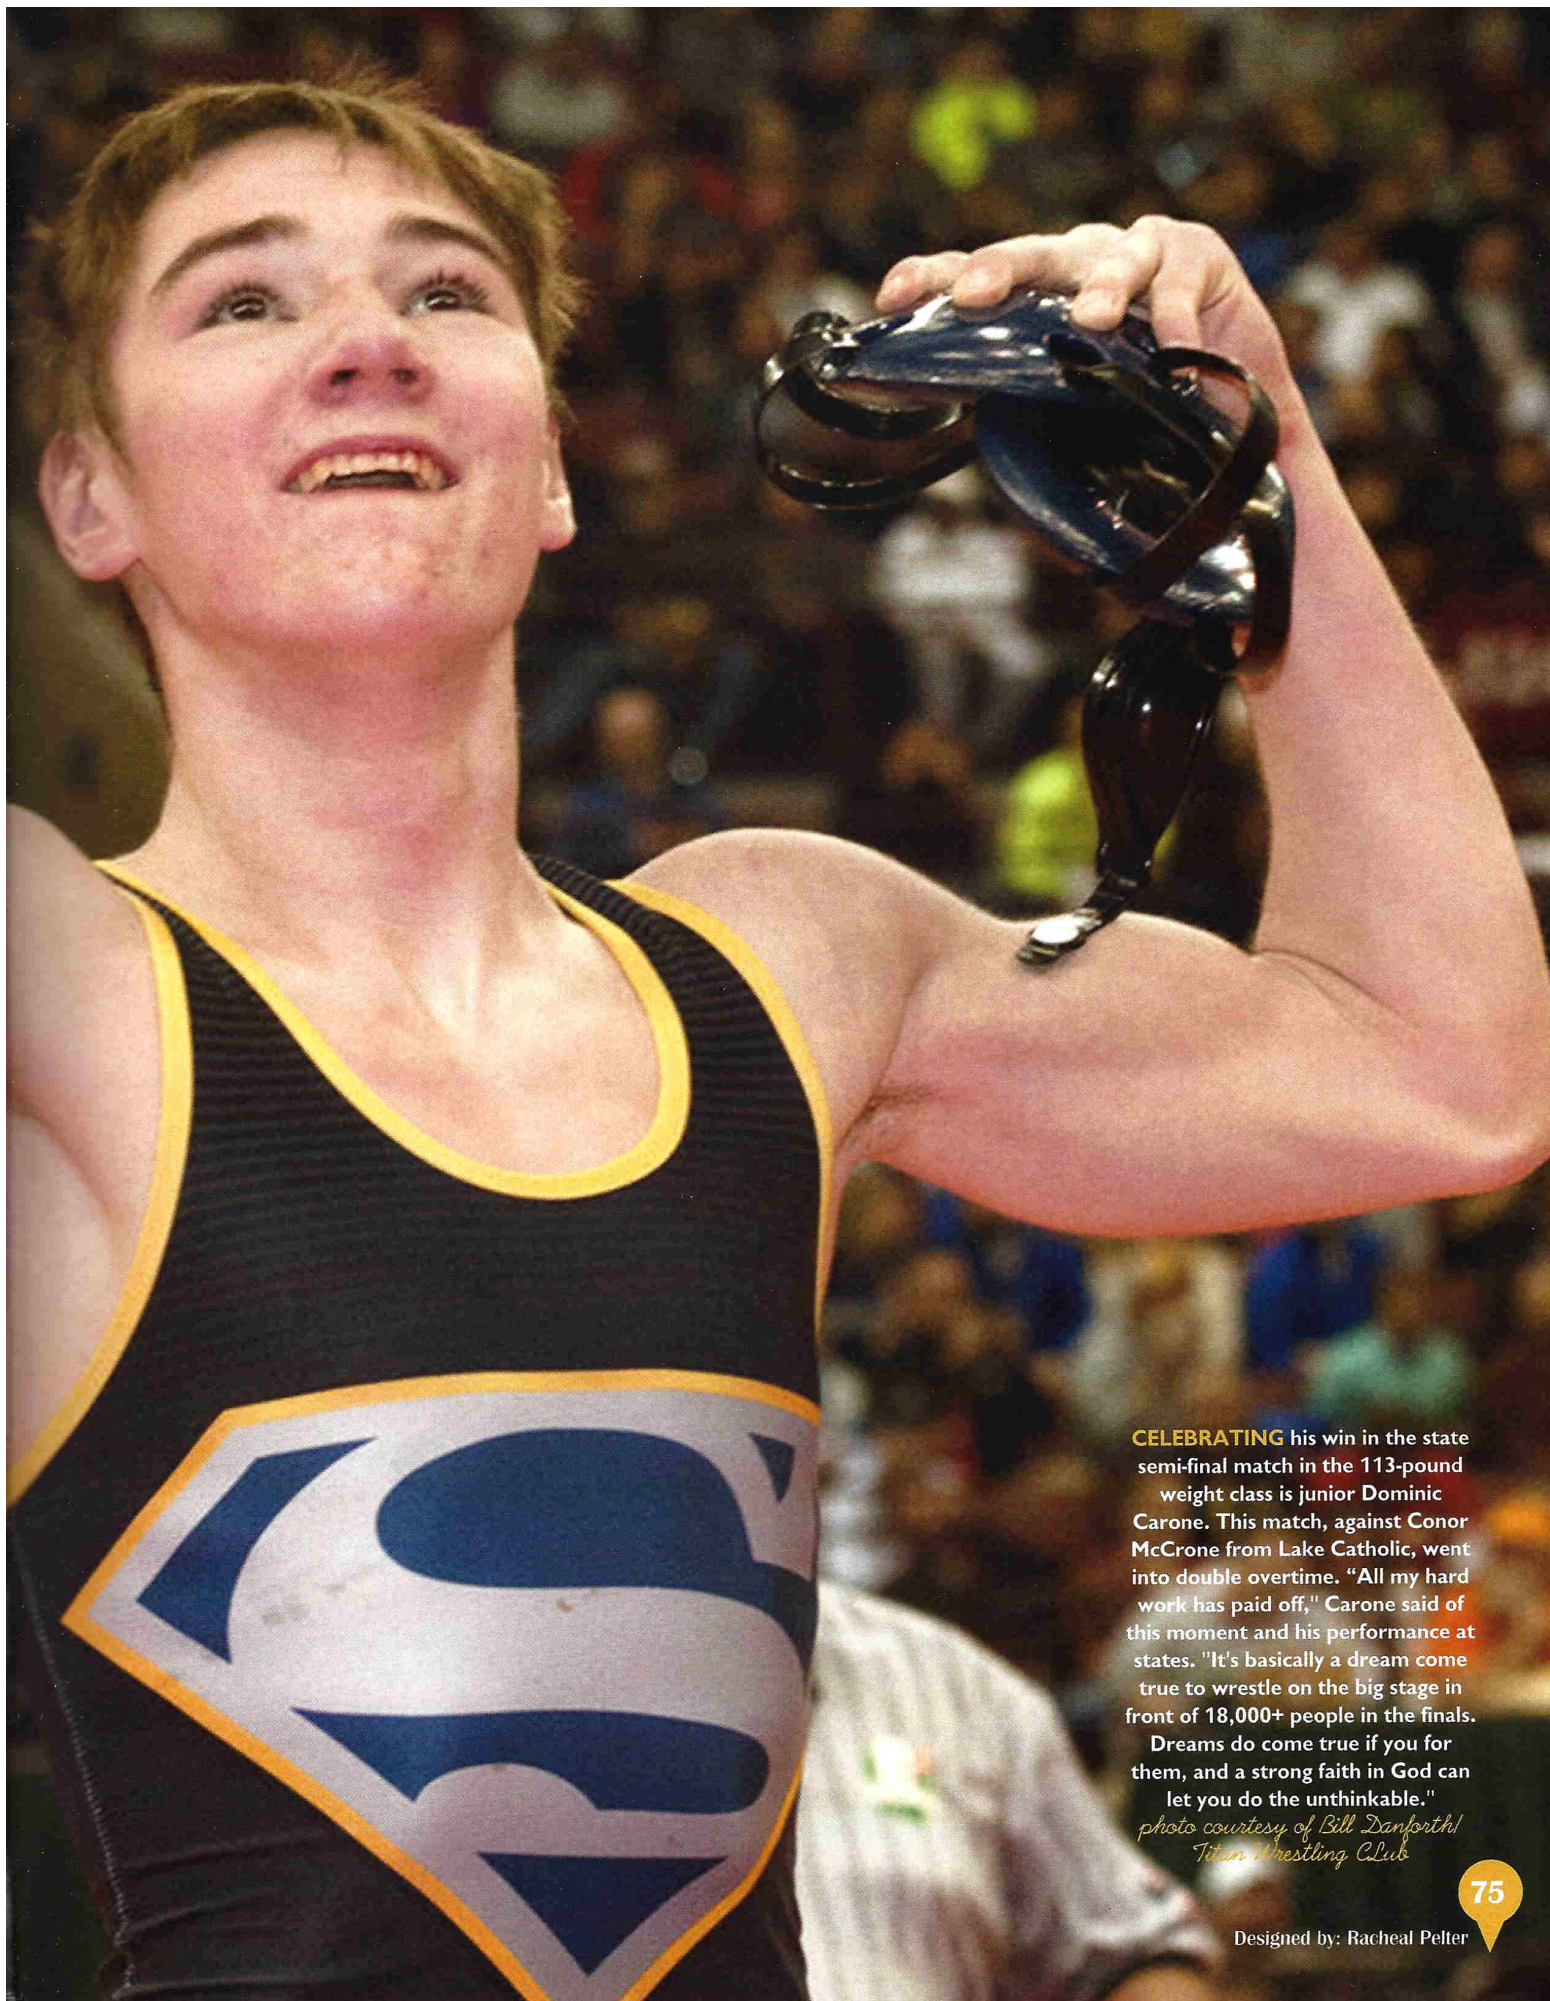

Shortly after the winter sports seasons got underway, practices – and then first games and matches – were held in the new school. Varsity basketball player Keshun Jones, a junior, played his best season, earning MVP and First Team All-PTC. Junior Dominic Carone and sophomore Hank Carey qualified for states in wrestling, with Carone finishing second in the 113-pound weight class.

Though persevering and thriving, in many ways, in this new school they had been waiting on for years, for many students and staff, leaving the old building behind and adjusting to the new one was tough.

Even though they would never be together on Annalane Drive again, they finally realized that it did not matter where they were, they were a Rocket family here, there... anywhere.

Winter

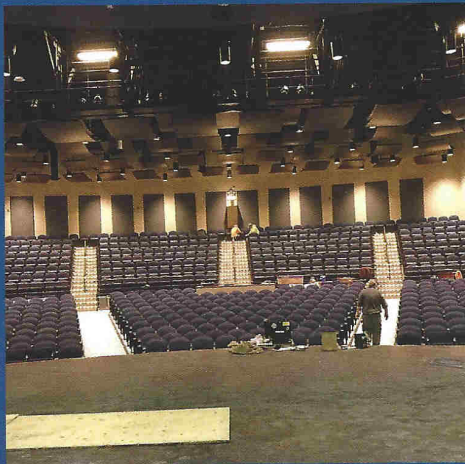

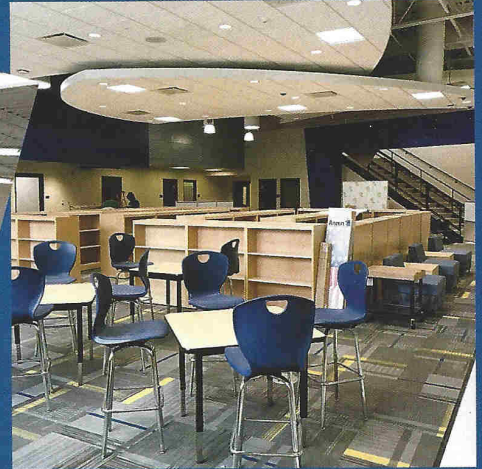

CELEBRATING his win in the state semi-final match in the 113-pound weight class is junior Dominic Carone. This match, against Conor McCrone from Lake Catholic, went into double overtime. "All my hard work has paid off," Carone said of this moment and his performance at states. "It's basically a dream come true to wrestle on the big stage in front of 18,000+ people in the finals. Dreams do come true if you for them, and a strong faith in God can let you do the unthinkable."

Mid-year move challenging

Rockets grateful, but miss old school 'home'

"I like the new school, because it is a lot bigger and nicer. I like the bathrooms better as well."

Freshman Angelina Philipps

"The new school feels more clean and open and the new cafeteria is a lot nicer. I miss how homey the old school was and we had more freedom there."

Junior Bianca Mella

"I like the new school, because it's something new and a good change. What I dislike about the new school is the no eating and drinking rule."

Sophomore Da'mone Love

"I miss the workout room at the old school and I don't like all the cameras around the [new] school. It creeps me out."

Sophomore Deonte Lewis

"I like the lockers and how we have our own at the new school. I miss how familiar I was with the old school, but I will eventually get used to it."

Junior Hannah Rhodes

"We both miss bringing Dunkin into school. We like that we'll be able to play in the new gym for volleyball."

'Trash' Champs

The Quiz bowl team won the John Cena trophy in the "Trash Tournament" and also competed in the televised Academic Challenge. "Academic Challenge is a game show that highlights high school students and their academic excellence," adviser Molly Klodor explained. "Each match, three high school teams battle to win the highest score." Team captains are Max Grudowski, Joe Beaver and Ravleen Ingle and their alternates are Skye Groskost, Karan Ingle and Anthony Mella.

ON the last day before winter break, staff members gather in the library in their ugly Christmas sweaters to bid farewell to the old school. "I didn't have a chance to say a proper goodbye," said principal Jamie Hogue (front). "There was so much to do, it was a very busy time...so I didn't really get a chance to close the door sentimentally."

Girls cheer first game in new school

1. JUNIOR Shelby Gibson does a cheer with seniors Ally Fabiniak and Emily Nuber December 20 after the Varsity boys score a two-pointer against Coventry. "I don't get nervous when I cheer," Gibson said. "I have been onstage performing since I was 3, and performing in front of people makes me happy knowing I am doing what I love."

2. TO start off the February 17 game, the cheerleaders do the run-through, welcoming the players. "I was sad that it was my last night ever cheering," Ally Fabiniak said. "But I'm so glad I got to cheer my senior year with such an amazing team. I'm really going to miss being with them every Tuesday and Friday night."

3. SHOUTING out "S-H-S" is junior Madison Danna. "I've grown closer with the rest of the team as the year started," said Danna, a first-year cheerleader. "I'm looking forward to becoming better friends with them."

4. AT the last game in the old school, sophomore Fide Rivera pumps up the crowd. "In all honesty, the transition from the old high school to the new high school in regards of cheer wasn't too difficult," Rivera said. "The gym at the old school wasn't too bad, but it was sad leaving behind the memories."

Marcini scores 100th win on Senior Night

1. GUARDING a Springfield opponent is freshman Nehemiah Benson. His brother, senior Noah Benson, and junior teammate Keshun Jones, back him up on defense. Nehemiah has played basketball for four years. "Me and my brother got a Little Tikes hoop, and we always played on it," Benson said. "He would beat me all the time, and I wanted to get better than him."

Then I began to just love it."

2. SENIOR Cory Gillings takes a free throw against Field. "I'm going to miss my teammates the most," he said. "We've grown together as a team and that impacted me the most." He said pre-game team rituals include a dance circle and prayer.

3. TAKING a free throw is sophomore Cody Cipra. "My favorite memory would have to be playing Woodridge and having such a close game the whole way," Cipra said. "It was fun because the crowd was into the game and it was so loud."

4. JUNIOR Will Butler races to the hoop in the Rockets' 76-71 victory over Crestwood. "I'm playing with people I've never really played with before, and it's my first year really playing Varsity," Butler said. "I want our team to win the league because we haven't done it in a while, and I think we are good enough."

"This year was a good year with how young we were," said Head Coach Nick Marcini. "Everyone stepped up this year as all roles needed filled with the loss of eight seniors...and of course the seniors did a great job leading the way."

6. JUNIOR Keshun Jones scores on CVCA. "I feel free and happy when I'm playing, like I have something to prove," Jones said. "I will forever remember creating a bond with my teammates and I enjoy playing with them."

7. BRINGING the ball down the court against Crestwood is junior Braden Tucker, who led his team to a 76-71 victory. "God motivates me in games to be unselfish, a leader to my teammates, and to just play for Him because He has blessed me with the ability to play. I am truly blessed and grateful," Tucker said.

8. SOPHOMORE Deonte' Lewis defends the ball against Coventry. "This has to be one of my favorite seasons, being able to play Varsity," Lewis said. "I didn't know if I would get there but I know I'd do anything to be at that Varsity level and I achieved it. I'm proud of myself."

9. SENIOR Noah Benson dribbles to the hoop against Field. "I love being able to play with my brother [freshman Nehemiah]," Benson said. "The best part about it is seeing him score or do something amazing on the court, then he'll look at me, which makes it all worth it."

10. DRIBBLING down the court is freshman Joshua Saucier. "I'll never forget that buzzer beater Krys [Riley Richardson] made against Coventry," Saucier said. "He won the game the first time he ever shot a three in his basketball career."

Bolyard, & team break 4 school records

1. SITTING with junior Maddy Rice on their Senior Night are Autumn Meek and Lindsee Cales. The Rockets lost this February 4 game to Ravenna. "Not playing my junior and senior year was real tough," said the injured Cales. "The girls on this team made every second worth it, though."

2. SAVING the ball from going out of bounds is senior Kayla Flick, while junior Maddy Rice stands by to help out. Flick had played basketball since the third grade. "The season could of gone better," she said. "We had some things happen that left us with low numbers. Overall, I enjoyed playing with everyone for my final season."

3. DRIBBLING downcourt is senior Savannah Nevels who averaged 15 points per game. "It felt good being a scoring leader," Nevels said. "Four years of hard work and dedication finally paid off."

4. SOPHOMORE Rachel Bolyard takes a shot against the Ravenna Ravens. Bolyard has broken the record for three pointers made in a season (51), three pointer percentage in season (35.4), free throw percentage in a season (78%), and was also named First Team All Conference Metro Division. "Having all these awards is such an honor," Bolyard said. "I'm just excited to see what's going to happen in the future."

5. STANDING together are members of the Lady Rockets basketball team. After a tough season with low numbers once again, the Rockets came out third in the PTC. "This year definitely had its ups and downs," said junior Maddy Rice. "We started things great but then it went a little downhill."

6. POSTING up against the Ravens is senior Autumn Meek. "It was really cool playing Senior Night with the people I started playing basketball with," Meek said. "I was sad we lost, but it was still fun."

7. SOPHOMORE Elizabeth Neff sets a screen for senior Savannah Nevels. Neff got some Varsity minutes when some members of the team were no longer able to play. "I spent a lot of time [on basketball] in the off season, so having my hard work pay off was a good feeling," Neff said.

8. GUARDING a Ravenna opponent is sophomore Maddie Lanier. She and other JV players moved up to Varsity when after low numbers became an issue on both squads. "I was really disappointed when JV was cancelled," Lanier said. "We had a really cool 'bench squad.'"

9. GOING around her defenders is sophomore Rachel Bolyard, while junior Maddy Rice and sophomore Elizabeth Neff head downcourt. Bolyard ended fourth overall in the PTC for three pointers made, with 51. "We had a good group of seniors this year that made the season really great," Bolyard said.

10. TAKING a foul shot is Dawn Dial who, along with the rest of the sophomores, got moved up to Varsity once the JV season ended. "We lost a lot of seniors this year, so that means lots of opportunities will open up next season," Dial said.

11. MEMBERS of the Varsity team laugh as they huddle. The girls went 12-12 this year, an improvement on last year's 7-14. "The energy was just different this year," said senior Autumn Meek (left). "I'm glad we went out with a bang."

2. LOCKED in with his opponent during the Springfield dual is sophomore Caiden Rodgers. "This year's a lot different for me, because I feel more confident now that I have had a year of experience in high school," Rodgers said. After the shift to the new school, the team had to deal with no wrestling room and practicing, instead, at the middle school. "It's a disappointment not having a wrestling room," Rodgers said, "but I still go in every day with my hard hat on and go to work."

2. PLOTTING Dorothy's demise is junior Sydney Miller as the Wicked Witch of the West. "My favorite memory was standing on the stage opening night and seeing all our work paid off," Miller said. "Selling out two shows presale is such an accomplishment and I was so proud."

3. WISHING he had a brain is junior Braden Tucker as the Scarecrow. "My favorite memory is performing the last scene with Katie [Curran] on Sunday night," Tucker said. "I was actually crying because it was the last show... Performing in the new auditorium was unbelievable; it was really breathtaking."

4. SENIOR Joe Beaver, as Oz, performs open heart surgery on junior Brandon Sanders. "My favorite scene...was where Dorothy, Scarecrow and Tinman meet the Lion," Sanders said. "I think we had a really fun and playful time... and it was funny every time we practiced it."

5. MOCKING senior Joe Beaver is junior Braden Tucker. "It was truly a thrill to have my last performance as the first performance in the new theater," Beaver said. "I'll miss the friendships and the relationships...and the people who have shaped who I am today."

Thriving on all fronts 'Oz' sells out in new auditorium

6. SENIOR Katie Curran performs "Goodbye Yellow Brick Road" as Dorothy. "I really enjoyed performing [this song]," Curran said. "The storyline means so much to me, how I've decided what I'm going to do...leaving high school behind to work on pursuing my dream, and it's scary, but it feels amazing."

SIGNING the NHS book is senior Maxine Stanek. "It meant a lot that my accomplishments and hard work have been recognized," Stanek said. "It also felt more prestigious and important in the new auditorium than it would have in the gym."

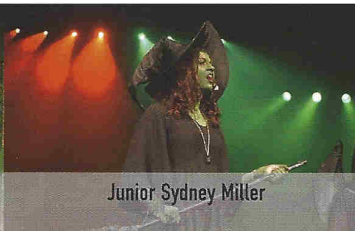

JUNIOR Marie Kallay is announced on stage. "Being inducted showed all my hard work paid off," Kallay said. "My advice...take a leadership role in something you're passionate about, and be a good person...not just when you're being watched."

Art Knows No Boundaries

PERFORMING on the guitar is sophomore Matthew Mitchell. "I live for every moment that I get to play for others," Mitchell said. "Seeing the joy that is brought to people who I perform for is what inspires me most."

FRESHMAN Shaciya Sims belts out a song during Thrive's "Art Knows No Boundaries" event. "Impactful moments inspire me to write music," Sims said. "My favorite memory is seeing the smiles on others' faces when we would perform." Sims has sung "Ease on Down the Road" from Oz and done back-up vocals.

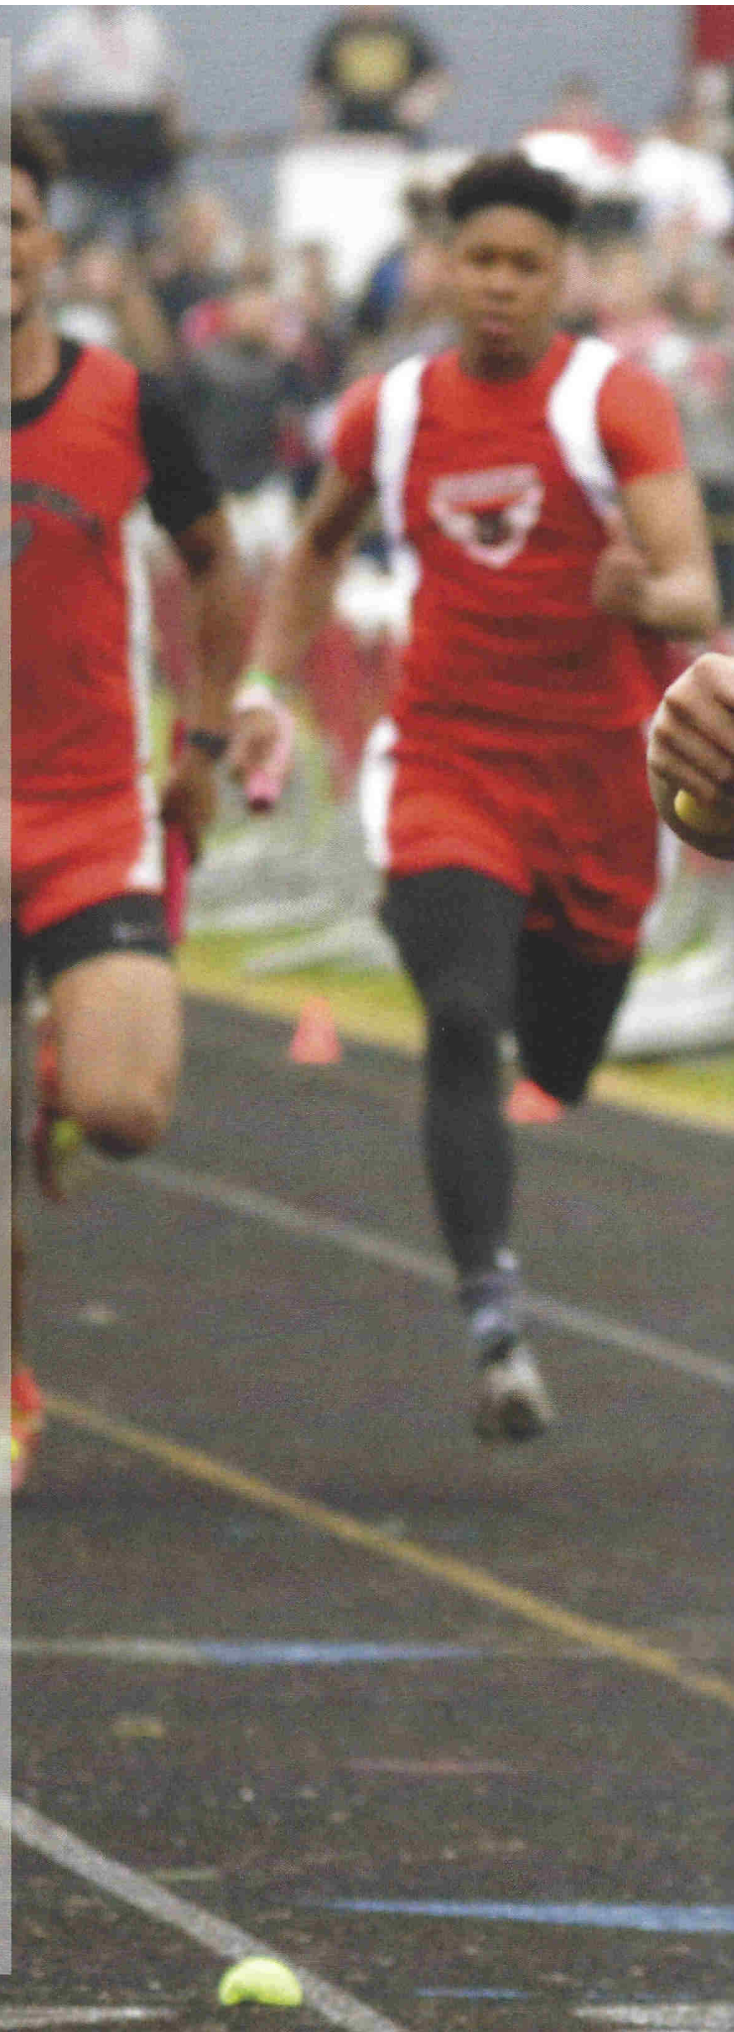

JAMMING on the guitar is senior Jeremy Grabowski. "I mostly perform covers, but I'm also working on some originals," he said. "[There are] so many memories I get to take with me, doing what I love, that some people don't get the chance to do."

AS spring rolled around, students and staff took advantage of all the perks the new school had to offer. The new auditorium played host to its first production, "The Wizard of Oz," whose Friday and Saturday night sell-out led to the addition of a Sunday show. At Senior Awards Night, over 30 students were recognized or gifted scholarships on stage, including two students who had earned full rides and several with athletic scholarships.

In the new stadium on Rt. 14, the track team hosted its first home meet in 18 years. Nine athletes then qualified for states: seniors Dakari Carter, Myron Jones, Milton Wilson and Savannah Nevels; junior KeShun Jones; sophomores Krista Prasek and Hannah Smith; and freshman Victoria Wagner. Wilson's discus throw of 149'8" did not get him to the podium, though the girls' 4x100 relay placed fifth. Both Joneses placed in the 400, with Keshun in third and Myron in eighth. Nevels set a new 200-meter school record with a time of 24.94 and placed fourth in states.

Academic successes included quiz bowl's qualification for nationals for the second year in a row, and the group traveled to Chicago to compete. Thrive also traveled out of state to New York City to once again perform in Carnegie Hall. Senior Katie Curran and juniors Sydney Miller and Braden Tucker performed in front of thousands, toured NYC and met with Broadway writers. The first-ever Prom Grand March was held in the auditorium, with After Prom in The Commons and gymnasium. Prom returned to the Bertram as a Verona Masquerade, where Iyana Chester and Rayshawn Dublin were crowned queen and king. After the dance, the students arrived at the high school for After Prom fun, testing their skills on the mechanical bull, bungee run, karaoke and more. After a year of memory-making, seniors struggled to say their goodbyes, graduate and leave behind their classmates of 13 years. Though they begin colleges and careers paths, students will always remain Rockets: Here, there, anywhere.

CROSSING the finish line in the 4x100 meter relay is senior and three-time state champion Dakari Carter. Placing first in the PTC final event with Carter were fellow seniors Myron Jones and Malik Johnson, and junior Keshun Jones. "I am just so blessed to be given this opportunity," Carter said. "It means a lot to make my family and city proud."

There are two standards in world languages: communication and culture, explained French teacher Alisha Bohn. Using hands-on projects engages the learners in the process, she added. "Students will experience the target language and culture and share information and personal reaction with others," Bohn said of her classes.

1. INKED UP is senior Jon Waycaster, who got two new tattoos March 11. He said the thought behind his tattoo is: "A lot of people ask for favors and say that we are family, but loyalty proves that you're my family, not blood."

Love of the GAME

Senior Cale Simpkins

"It was crazy that I hit a homerun in every game this season. My favorite memory is all the funny games we played during rain delays, like tic tac toe or hunting with the other team."

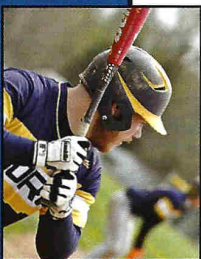

Senior Preston Collins

"I'm going to miss the peacefulness of baseball [after graduating]. It clears my head of everything else going on in my life."

Senior Kyle Ambrecht

"My favorite memory was throwing a no-hitter this year. I was really excited and so were my teammates. I really enjoyed that game."

Senior Brandon Peterson

"My parents are easily my biggest supporters; neither one of them are more so than the other. I have been fortunate enough to have both of them at every game of mine."

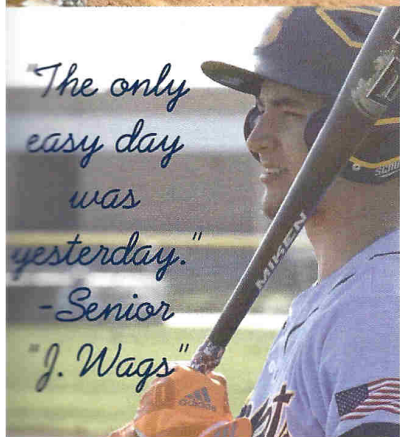

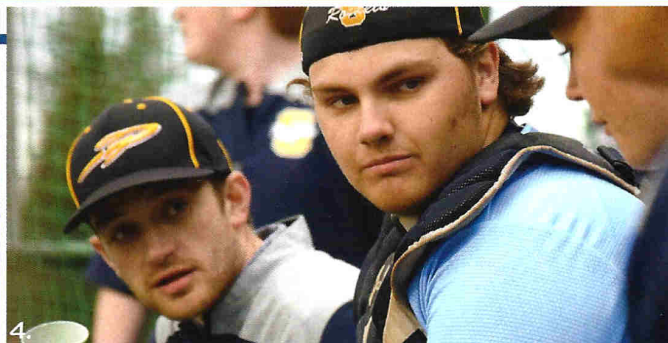

1. SLAPPING hands with fellow senior Cale Simpkins as he comes in from another run is Kyle Ambrecht. "Being on a mostly senior team was awesome because I've played with these guys my entire life," Simpkins said. "It was great to end with them and we've made some good memories."

Love of the GAME

"I love the energy the team gives off when we cheer. It's the backbone of winning"

Sophomore Taylor Reynolds

"I love the feeling of winning as a team."

Senior Sarah Varner

"I love the feeling of getting a big hit or making a great play. I also love playing with my teammates, because some of them have become my closest friends."

Freshman Sandy Rand

"Softball brings out the best person in me. It gives me opportunities a lot of people would wish for, gives me not friends, but sisters. I don't know what I'd do without it."

1. LAUGHING after a team huddle are senior Justine Yates, junior Taylor Reynolds and senior Sarah Varner. "It's always a good time with these two seniors," Reynolds said, "because they are always having fun, but I look up to them as well."

Love of the Run

"I really enjoy the competition and the adrenaline I get in the races. I think it is rewarding, the way you feel after you run. It is refreshing."

Freshman London Anderson

"What drives me to run is my dad. He died when I was very young and did a lot of sports as well. So when I run, when I compete, I think of him. I only want to make him proud."

Sophomore Krista Prasek

"I love track because it gets me in shape for soccer and I get to hang out with some great people."

Freshman Ashlee Basich

"I set goals for myself. I want to perfect what I do! I have an idea of when and how I want to do it. Working hard during the season is how you get there."

1. SENIOR Savannah Nevels runs for a second place finish in the 200 meters at PTCs May 12. Her 4x100 relay team finished as PTC Champs. Nevels went on to qualify and place in two events at states in Columbus: fourth in the 200, with a new school record of 24.89, and as a member of the fifth place 4x100 relay team.

Love of the RUN

Senior George Redding

"Being a part of the track team these past four years has been a really fun experience. I was really upset it fell short due to injury. I'm still happy I was able to be a part of the team"

Sophomore Bear Anderson

"I had a lot fun running track this year. I really look up to the upperclassmen on the team. Seniors like Dakari Carter and Myron Jones really help push me to be a better runner."

Freshman Cam Kalowsky

"I enjoy the competition in running, and pushing myself to the limit. And this year I enjoyed getting to run with all the upperclassmen because they were great role models and fun to be around."

Sophomore Derek Hamper

"My hopes for track next year are to make a name for the distance crew among the district. Also to cut my times down by 10-15 seconds in my two events."

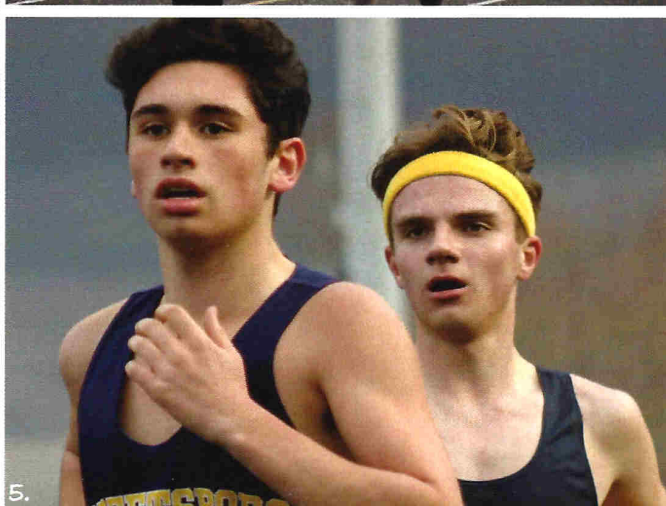

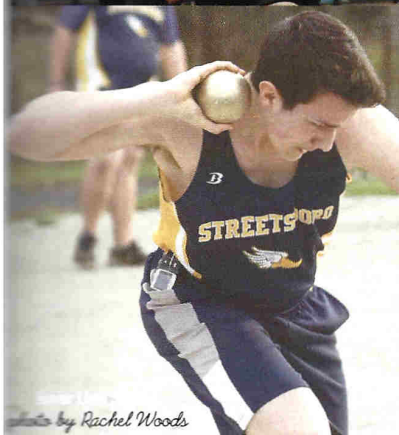

1. SENIORS Myron Jones and Keshun Jones compete in the PTC finals May 12. Both finished top three in the 200- and 400 meters here and at districts, then went on to place at states.

9. LAUGHING together are tutor Brady Marlow and junior Johnny Docherty. Marlow said he loved seeing the students have fun, because it reminded him of his prom. "I would love to chaperone again," he said. "I have a lot of fun with the teachers and the students."

10. JUNIORS Faith Deever and Marie Kallay record a lip-sync on Snapchat. "My favorite memory was hearing 'Only' play, and being on the edge of the dance floor but spotting a friend of mine who knows I love that song," Deever said, "and we start rapping back and forth and I don't think I've ever laughed so hard."

Students unwind after year of hard work

1. CONGRATULATING prom queen Iyana Chester is fellow senior Braden Hatzo. "I think we all came together to make prom better by making Iyana prom queen," Hatzo said. "She was so excited to win and we are all happy for her."

3. SOPHOMORE Hannah Smolik sings to juniors Bailey Deever and Hudson Reuter and sophomore Mitch Nehls. "My favorite song they played was the throwback Justin Bieber songs," Smolik said. "I liked all the throwback songs that they played, and the good mix between throwbacks, and good current songs."

4. MAKING the most of their senior prom together out on the dance floor are Nicole Tacsar and Myron Jones. "The thing I will miss most about high school prom is the chance for our whole class to be together one last time," Tacsar said.

5. SHARING a slow dance May 6 are Spanish teacher Courtney Ruggaber and junior Nathan Vacha. "My favorite memory was dancing with Ms. Ruggaber," Vacha said. "I love how everyone was having a great time and celebrating the school year by dancing."

6. SENIORS Ashley Wolf and Aajah Chapman sing along as they dance. "Being with my friends and being able to look back on moments of that night will probably be what I liked most about prom," Wolf said.

7. JUNIOR Patrick Grobosky and senior Madison Dabrowski share a slow dance. "I really enjoyed my senior prom because I had a good time with all my friends and my boyfriend..." Dabrowski said. "I wish it wasn't my last school dance, but I think it was a good way to sort of close out the years in high school."

What was the highlight of prom?

"Generally, it was being on the dance floor with my friends. Every song they played, we knew and it made it more fun."

Senior Jasmine Miller

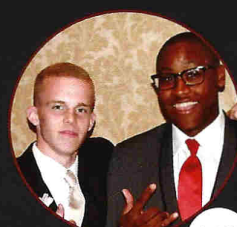

"...Seeing Iyana win prom queen. She is so sweet and innocent and she deserved it!"

Junior Kaitlin Rose

"The very end of the dance. Everyone left except for my friends and I. We went to the DJ and asked if he could play 'Tunnel Vision' and he surprisingly said yes. After 30 seconds of the song, Mr. Hogue started doing the Kodak shuffle with us."

Jon Howell (right) with fellow seniors Jon Salter

LAUGHING as they walk down the center aisle of the Akron Civic Theatre May 30 are soon-to-be graduates Malia Starks and Kori Stier. "I'm so excited about graduating and being out of high school," Stier said. "Now I'll be going to Daytona State in Florida which is even more exciting for me."

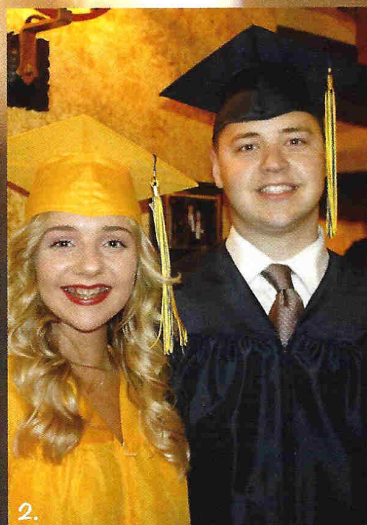

A walk to remember

Kayla Flick, Kate Shcherban lead Class of '17

2. READY to graduate and move on to the next phase of their lives are Brandi Sustaric and Alex Lanzdorf. "I'm not going to college this year," Sustaric said. "I'm taking a gap year to figure out what exactly I want to do, but for now I'm looking for a full-time job."

3. SINGING the national anthem is senior choir member, Racquel Hubbard. "It was such an honor and an experience I'll never forget," Hubbard said. "The thing I will miss most about high school is getting to have a everyday interaction with my friends and the high school sporting events."

2. VALEDICTORIAN Kayla Flick delivers her speech to the Class of 2017, family, friends and teachers. "Today, we will be cured of our devastating disease," Flick said. "Some of us have been showing symptoms for the past few weeks, others have been struggling for months. Some of you were diagnosed years ago... Yes, today our diplomas cure the one thing we have in common: Senioritis."

3. SALUTATORIAN Kate Shcherban refers to "The Office" in her speech. "I realized that many of the hardships Michael Scott went through as...regional manager could be related to my high school experience," she said. "Just as with managing the branch, high school can be draining at times. The rigorous course load may leave you exhausted."

4. HEADING down the aisle toward his seat in the front of the theater is Mark Pitts. "I'm glad I finally graduated," Pitts said afterward. "High school was rough sometimes, but I can't wait to see how college goes, and hopefully it will be a little bit better than high school was."

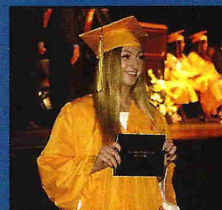

6.

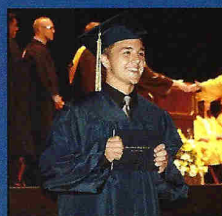

Will you miss high school?

"Yes, as much as I say I can't wait to graduate and leave, it's hard leaving all the teachers and realizing I have to grow up."
-Cassie Lobb

"I had such a tight group of friends who stuck together all four years, so I'm really going to miss all of them, but I won't miss having to get to school at 7:25 every day...even though I came in late every day anyway."
-Rachel Woods

"Yeah, I'm gonna miss it... Well, I'm not gonna miss the assignments and tests, but I will miss seeing my friends every day... I love all of them."
-Nick Keba

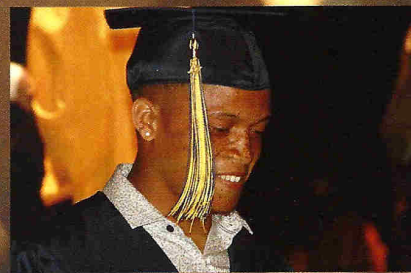

"I will miss it. High school was always a constant, and it felt like it'd never end. But now it has, and there's so many possibilities. It's scary, yet really exciting."
-Anna Lesak

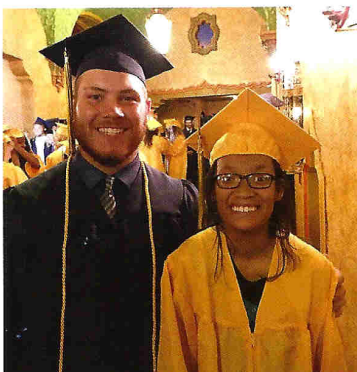

ADDRESSING his fellow graduates is class President Sidney Grimm. "I will miss the teachers most," Grimm said. "They shaped me to be who I am today...The feeling that high school was over came to me during the last semester. I knew everything was winding down and was looking forward to the conclusion."

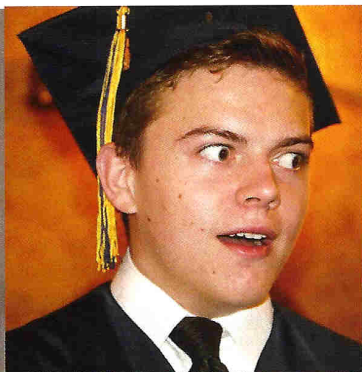

DANCING down the aisle are Valencia Williams and Ashley Wolf. "Graduating for me was bittersweet," Wolf said. "I didn't actually feel like I was graduating until I walked across the stage that night in my cap and gown."

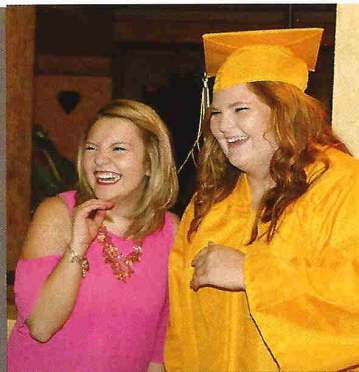

WALKING off stage after receiving his diploma is Dakari Carter. "I always set high expectations for myself," Carter said. "But I expect myself to do great things and I know my new coaches are expecting great things from me."

SAYING one last goodbye are Kyle Armbricht and Iyana Chester. "Iyana and I met when some of my friends and myself would hang out...in Ms. Rossman's class," Armbricht said. "She always puts a smile on my face and I'm glad I can do the same for her."

GOOFING around in the mezzanine level of the theater before lining up for the ceremony is Kyle Young. "I'm going to miss high school a bit," Young said. "All my friends are going to different colleges."

SHARING a laugh before the ceremony are junior Haley Roble and Racheal Pelter. "She is so much fun and hilarious," Roble said of Pelter. "I can't wait to become closer with her."

JUNIOR Jordan Delgross shows off her diploma before taking her seat. "Mr. Judd was a great teacher who influenced me throughout high school," Delgross said. "He always had the funniest things to say at the right time."

PHYSICAL education teacher Krista Romance says goodbye to Jonathan Sowell, Jon Soltis and Nick Targosky. "I will miss this class," Romance said. "I had them all in kindergarten, so it was cool to see them graduate."

SAYING goodbye to high school and all the memories it holds is Reno Basar. "I will miss the atmosphere of high school the most," he said. "Sure, it has its ups and downs, but you don't know how good it feels until it's all over."

EXCITED to be on the road to college is Alexa Brace. She said she will always remember how "my class got to spend some time in a brand new high school and were the first class to graduate from it."

LOOKING toward the future is Charlie Grager. "I think taking electives that tie into music was a big key in determining what I want to major in college," he said.

Love & Many Thanks, Mrs. D.*

Congratulations, Senior State Qualifiers!

Lindsee Cales

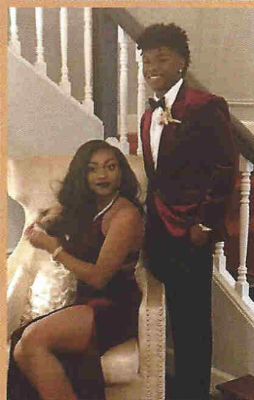

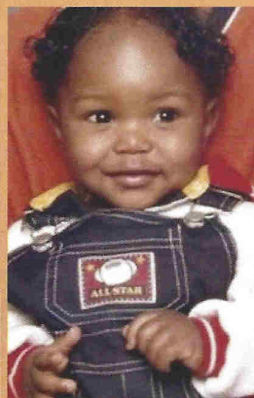

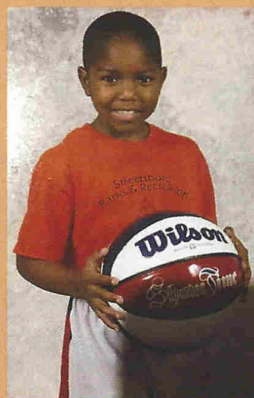

Lindsee, we're so proud of your achievements and the hurdles you've overcome throughout your school career.

We're excited to see what you will accomplish in the next chapter of your life! We love you!

🍀 Mom, Steve and Morgan

George Redding

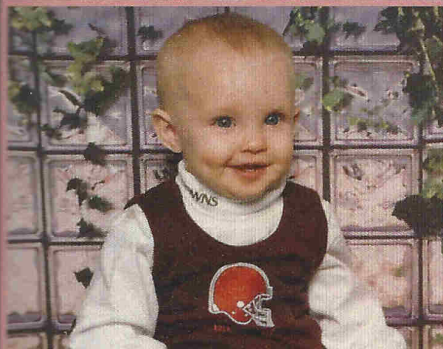

To My Son George Edward Redding iii (Trey)

We are so proud of you! Since your first day of preschool you have been the best student a teacher could have! You were always well behaved and respectful at school and at home. I only had one complaint from your second grade teacher who accused you of making gang signs for a picture you were taking for Student of the Week and she was so wrong. When I asked you what you were doing in that picture you said, "Mom I was being Spider Man!" I was so proud how you handled that as a second grader you still kept your smile and were not upset that she didn't put your picture up. You are so strong minded and you know how to handle conflict without anger. I know God has a plan for you. Congratulations, George, we are so proud of you and I know you will continue to make us proud!

I LOVE YOU MY TINKER WOO!

Sarah Varner

You did it! We are so proud of you and just know that the future holds wonderful opportunities for you. You have a strong work ethic and you know what it takes to be successful. We can't wait to see where your road leads. We'll be here for you every step of the way.

Love, Mom & Dad

Congratulations, Class of 2017!

Good Luck, Seniors! -- Coach Bunch

Madison Dabrowski

Little girls with dreams, become women with vision.
We couldn't be more proud of the woman you've become.
Chase all your dreams!
Love you so much,
Mom, Dad & Alex

Aajah Chapman

Who you are is what makes you special. Do not change for anyone.
What lies ahead will always be a mystery. Do not be afraid to explore.
When life pushes you over, you push back harder.
Where there are choices to make, make the one you won't regret.
Why things happen will never be certain. Take it in stride and move forward.

Brandi Sustaric

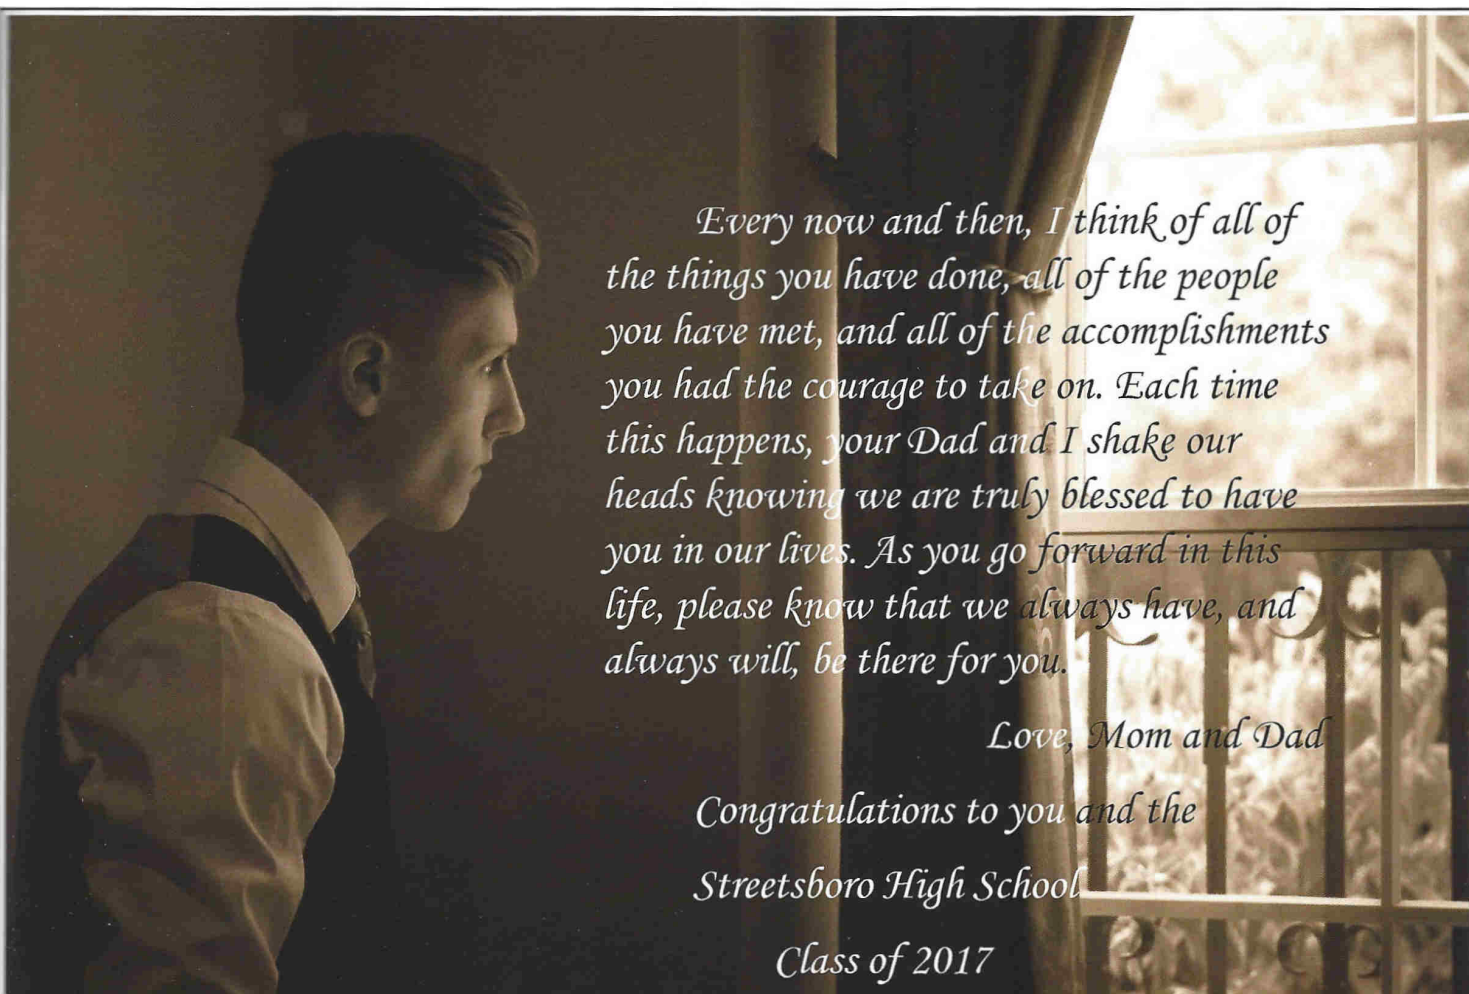

For You Brandi, Our Daughter...
We Couldn't Be More Proud of You!

We hope that you always keep your wonderful attitude and that whatever happens in your life happens for the best. We hope that you are always truly happy and thankful for whatever you have and that you never care about what you do not have.

You are a very rare person and we are so proud to have you as our daughter. You cannot imagine how happy you make us. We do not have to worry about you at all. You are everything a parent could wish for. We love you very much!

Love always and forever
Mom and Dad

Every now and then, I think of all of the things you have done, all of the people you have met, and all of the accomplishments you had the courage to take on. Each time this happens, your Dad and I shake our heads knowing we are truly blessed to have you in our lives. As you go forward in this life, please know that we always have, and always will, be there for you.

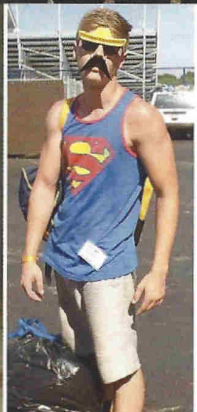

Love, Mom and Dad

Molly Harris

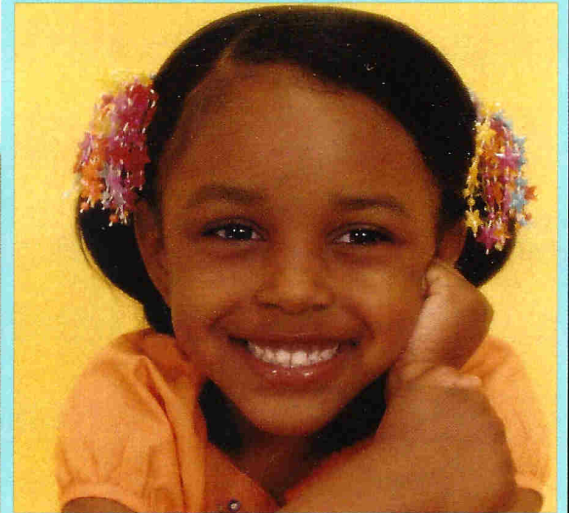

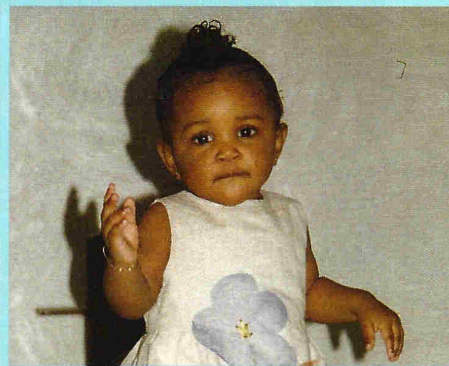

The past 18 years have flown by all too fast. Watching your transformation from a smiling happy baby into the passionate young lady that you have become has been a journey that I am proud to have been a part of. You have brought joy into our lives and there is nothing that you can't accomplish. Now that you are graduating, welcome to adulthood, welcome to the world, welcome to the job market, welcome to paying your own bills...
We love you

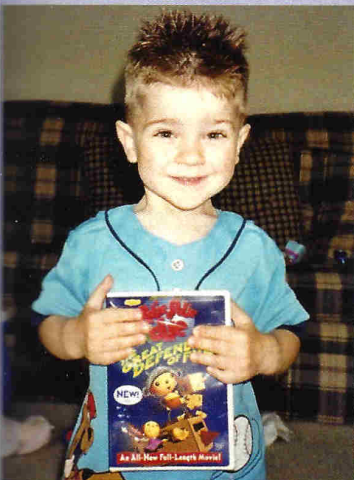

Savannah Neuels

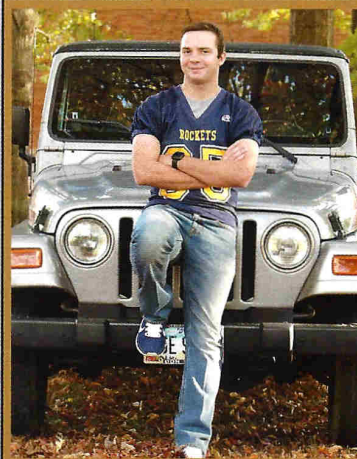

Congratulations, Savannah!
We are so proud of you. You've come so far but the best is yet to come. Good luck at Bowling Green!!

Austen Majkrzak

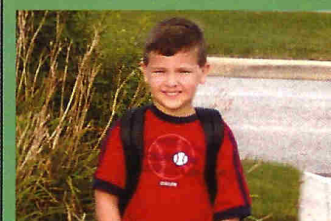

Congratulations Austen!!
We are so proud of you and the young man you have become! Our prayer is that you keep God first, and work hard at all you do as you chase your dreams.
We are so excited to see where this next chapter of your life takes you! We love you with all our hearts!
Love: Mom, Dad and Alyssa

JMAN, Stay true to your beliefs!
No limits! No boundaries! Only you can make it happen, so continue to grow into that leader you were born to be. Looking forward to the next stage of your life and know that there is no challenge you can't overcome successfully! Proud to have a son like you!
Love: Mom, Dad, Kayla and Taylor

Brandon Peterson

Congratulations Brandon!
You are destined for great things! We are so proud and excited for you and can't wait to see where your future takes you!

With returning students and newcomers, the 2017 staff, advised by Polly Dierkens, tackled the 144-page yearbook with ease. The theme "Here, There... Anywhere" reflected the unity and family-like essence the individuals inside Streetsboro High School shared, no matter what building they were residing in.

Eleven veteran staff members and nine rookies made up the team, allowing the establishment of different perspectives and new ideas to pour into the book. Two senior staff members, Madison Dabrowski and Racheal Pelter, attended the Buckeye State Yearbook Conference at Kenyon College for three days in July with Dierkens, and came up with the theme and cover ideas.

The cover has a matte gray finish and "Anywhere" is a thermal design, which reveals a photo of the Rocket Marching Band when in contact with heat. The icon on the cover resembles a location dropper, furthering the notion of no matter where we end up or where we are located, the students and staff of SHS are united.

The 8.5x11 book of spirit and camaraderie was made with the Jostens' online "Yearbook Avenue" program. Primary headlines are 48 pt., left aligned, AYT David font. Secondary headlines are 32 pt., right aligned, AYT Arizona font. All photo captions are 9 pt., Chantilly (bold), with the first word of every caption in 10 pt., all caps, in colors corresponding with others on the page. Each photo credit is in 8 pt., Arizona font, and in the same color as the first word in the caption. "Cut out background" (COB) images are identified in 10 pt. David, with grades or titles and names on the first line, and photo credit on the second line in 8 pt. Arizona. Adobe Photoshop was used to create COBs, crop, adjust lighting and create color balance on several photos.

Almost all photos were shot using the three Canon T3 Rebels in the classroom, or the cameras staffers owned or borrowed. Photos shot by individuals other than the staff were given credit through "photo courtesy of..." Venditti Studios took the sports team photos and Lifetouch took the students' portraits. Seniors were permitted to send in portraits from other photographers if they wished.

The starting price for the book was $60 until September 30, then increased to $65 until February 10, $70 until March 24 and $75 until May 19. The staff also held a Black Friday sale in November to sell inventory before moving to the new school. All books prior to this year's were priced at $25 each for one week. The 2017 books will be distributed at the Back-to-School Ice Cream Social. Special thanks go out to Josten's field rep Alex Intihar and plant consultant Andrew Buhler for their patience, moral support and for making the production of the book possible.
