

Janet (Hannum) Dunlap

Streetsboro Alumni Class of 1941

Jan was never far from the schools. Her Father, as well as a Great Aunt, taught school in Streetsboro in the 1800's. She was the High School Secretary starting at the opening of the new Streetsboro High School for the first 23 years, from September 1962 until June 1985.

She passed on the passion for education to her children. Her daughters, Diane and Susan, both served long carriers as Elementary Teachers. Her son Michael served on the Streetsboro City Board of Education for 12 years and is now rounding out a carrier as a Technical Trainer.

She has spent her entire life in, as well as, being part of the community of Streetsboro.

She and her husband Floyd were involved in a multitude of community activities from the first Fire Department to the Bench Backer High School Sports organization. These helped to advance the town in the areas of safety and High School sports.

She was involved in PTA, Campfire Girls, and Teen Town. She also served as room mother for her children's classes.

She has demonstrated a loyalty to people of Streetsboro through service in Mobile Wheels meal delivery, fund raising for numerous charities, and involvement in her church in many roles; but one of the most cherished is in being a Sunday School Teacher to little folks.

She has been an advocate of preservation of Streetsboro's History. Please review the pages I printed from the Streetsboro Heritage Foundation website.

Jan has never met a person she does not like and it is extremely difficult to change that position.
